

DOUBLE PARKING near many of schools in the Quad-Cities has become a serious problem for through traffic in the area of the schools and for the children going to and coming from the schools. Motorists are seen double-parked on Benton Street in front of

Emerson School, causing a tight squeeze for passing autos. The problem is not confined to this location, as similar situations occur daily at many schools. Recent accidents involving children struck by cars have focused attention on the issue. (Press-Record Photo)

In unanimous for plant's bond issue

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
A memorandum of intent in which Granite City proposes to issue $4 million in industrial revenue bonds to help finance installation of a new metal processing facility in part of the former General Steel Industries (Commonwealth plant) was implemented by the City Council Tuesday night.

The alderman gave unanimous approval to a resolution relating some provisions of the proposal and authorizing Mayor Paul Schuler and City Clerk Robert Stevens to deliver the memorandum. Mayor Schuler told the Press-Record that the council action advances the program to the point that the bonds may be issued at any time the company gives it go-ahead.

The memorandum of intent has been worked out between the city and the Michigan Metal Processing Corp., Detroit, Mich., which proposes to locate the new steel plant here with financial help by the city.

The Detroit firm also has negotiated with Granite City Steel which owns the former General Steel Industries property, part of which would be used under lease by the new facility.

Under the agreement, the city would sell tax-free municipal revenue bonds, and would own the equipment and implement the Michigan Metal Processing then would lease the facility from the city, with an option to buy after the bonds are retired.

Implementation of the memorandum followed action by the council a week ago in accepting a half during the second half of the year if they wish to do so.

the Commonwealth plant property. The former road easement has been in disuse for a number of years, but is essential to plans for operation of the proposed metal processing facility.

Under the action taken a week

GC Steel 100-year open house

Granite City Steel's 100th anniversary celebration will be highlighted by a public centennial open house next month. Plant tours will be offered on Friday, May 19, and Saturday, May 20.

The tours, with in-plant transportation by bus, will show visitors the Blast Furnace plant, Basic Oxygen Furnace shop, Blooming Mill and 80-Inch Hot Strip.

An optional tour will be available also to the company's new Waste Water Treatment Plant at Horseshoe Lake.

Following the main tour, guests will visit a large display tent where they will see a wide variety of products made from GC's steel, along with a display of the raw materials required to produce steel.

Special centennial souvenirs will be distributed.

Plant tours will begin from the plant parking lot on Lee Avenue between 20th and 21st Streets.

New tavern fees and hours

Granite City tavern and package liquor store operators next week will begin paying twice the amount of liquor license fees as they have in the past, but will be permitted to operate an hour longer than previously permitted.

These two sections of a proposed new liquor license control ordinance which was proposed a week ago but placed only on first reading were approved by the City Council during its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The limited portion of the new ordinance was presented to council members by Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward after the council was advised that present liquor licenses expire Sunday, April 30, which is the end of the city's fiscal year.

Mayor Paul Schuler emphasized that without action during Tuesday night's meeting, the city would have to continue through the next fiscal year until April 30, 1979, under terms of the old liquor control ordinance.

While the city could change the license fees any time during a fiscal year, the new fee would not become effective until the beginning of the next fiscal year, he explained.

As a result, the council adopted a motion by Douglas that liquor license fees for both taverns and package liquor stores be set at $600, effective Monday, May 1, and that taverns be permitted to operate until 2 a.m. daily on weekdays and until 3 a.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

The new fee is double the $300 license paid by both tavern operators and package store operators in past years. Such places also were required in the past to close at 1 a.m. on weekdays and at 2 a.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Douglas placed the license fee and hour proposal before the council after explaining that a special committee of which he is chairman, expects to review other provisions of the overall license control ordinance that was presented for council action at the April 18 meeting.

"Since the ordinance was placed on first reading on April 18, we have received considerable input from aldermen and from other persons," Douglas said. "Consequently, we (the committee) want to go over it again and perhaps revise some aspects of it."

He then noted that it would be necessary to act Tuesday night on the new fees and hours proposals because the city would have to continue with the $300 annual fee and shorter hours unless action was taken before May 1.

Douglas' motion setting new fee payments also provided that for an additional $150 fee, a tavern could acquire a license to sell package liquor.

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward said he believed this was unfair to the package store owners since taverns would be able to sell drinks on the premises as well as package liquor for total license fees of $750.

On the other hand, he said, the package liquor store operator pays $600 but is not permitted to sell drinks for consumption on the premises. He said that a tavern should be required to buy both a $600 tavern license and a $600 package store license if it wishes to sell both.

Alderman Sam Whitmer said he could go along with the new license fees but that he did not like the longer hours. Mayor Schuler said he thought the hours proposals were a chance to go along with those in Madison, Venice and other places.

The council also agreed to a provision that purchasers of licenses may pay half the fee upon application and the remaining half during the second half of the year if they wish to do so.

Going up—city tax, maybe water rate

Granite City taxpayers will be billed for $2,662,470 in city taxes this year under a new 1977 tax rate of $1.511 per $100 assessed valuation, City Council members were informed Tuesday night.

The new rate, which is for collection of corporate taxes only, is 20.9 cents per $100 valuation higher than last year's rate of $1.302 under which taxpayers were billed for $2,312,460.

At the same time council members, who also make up the Granite City Town Board, were told that the tax office of county Clerk Evelyn Bowles has established a new 1977 tax rate of 24.9 cents per $100 assessed valuation for Granite City Township.

That rate is an increase of 3.5 cents over last year's town rate of 21.4 cents.

This year's town rate is based on a levy of $618,420 for town purposes, compared with $450,537 last year.

A breakdown of the new city tax rate shows that virtually all of the rate hike results from increases in tax levies for firemen's pensions and police pensions which were raised in the 1977 levy because of a state mandate calling for maximum funding in both of those accounts.

Levies of $300,000 were extended for the 1977 tax year in the fireman's pension account, compared to a 1976 levy of $144,466 in the fireman's pension account and a 1976 levy of $101,007 in the police pension account.

The higher pension levies result this year in a new rate of 17.03 cents per $100 valuation in the fireman's pension account and the same rate in the police pension fund.

Last year the smaller levy for firemen's pensions resulted in a rate of 8.13 cents and that for police pensions resulted in a rate of 5.69 cents for the 1976 year.

New tax rates for 1977 will be applied in Granite City to a valuation of $176,315,264

On and off the record 7-11, Wendy's planned in GC

Granite City soon will have a new Wendy's Hamburger Restaurant and a new 7-11 convenience store, it was announced yesterday after both firms received building permits for the projects.

Wendy's is planning a $225,000 building along Nameoki Road and it will be located between Holiday One-Hour Cleaners and the Nameoki Cinema. The 7-11 Store, a fast-stop convenience store, will be located in downtown Granite City at the intersection of Niedringhaus Avenue and 10th and Benton streets, on the corner currently having a vacant service station, which is to be razed.

It will cost $60,000 to construct the new building, which will have an address of 1207 Niedringhaus Ave.

Hearing on status of indicted man

A hearing on the employment status of Sgt. Richard Krieschok of the Madison Police Department will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Krieschok was one of three men indicted by a federal grand jury March 31 for actions related to taverns and business establishments in 1971-74.

Ed Ray Dush, president of the Madison Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, said today, "There are three or four alternatives we have in this matter, but I am not at liberty to discuss them before the hearing."

Krieschok was suspended April 1 without pay for 30 days. A meeting of the commissioners and the Madison city attorney was held Wednesday afternoon in preparation for Saturday's hearing.

Weather outlook for this region

Sunny and mild today with high about 70. Increasing cloudiness tonight. Low tonight about 50. Considerable cloudiness Friday with chance of showers by dark. High in the low 70s. Saturday through Monday, chance of rain or thundershowers Saturday, ending early Sunday. Fair Monday. Lows in the mid-50s and highs in the lower 70s during the weekend period.

Infringement an airport issue

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Nameoki Township residents Monday night let it be known that they oppose expanding Lakeside Airport on Route 111 into a commercial airport for a variety of reasons, the main one being that they do not want Granite City to infringe on any more township property.

About 40 persons attended the meeting of the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees to express their opposition. A petition bearing 100 signatures of persons opposed to expanding the airport was presented to the board.

Objections expressed included increased noise and danger from airplanes, decreased property values from commercial expansion around the airport, increased highway traffic, valuable land being "gobbled up" as the airport expands and others.

However, the basic theme which recurred throughout the discussion was that Nameoki Township officials and residents do not want Granite City to expand further into the township.

The city's so-called "strip annexation" of the Archer Daniels Midland Co. soybean processing plant on Cargill Road and of Grigsby Junior High School were cited as examples of such expansion.

One man commented, "Granite City has no where to expand except in this direction."

Daylight time begins Sunday

Quad-Cityans will gain an hour of daylight in the evenings, but lose the daylight hour in the morning as daylight saving time becomes effective Sunday.

Area residents are reminded to set their clocks ahead one hour. Although daylight time officially begins at 2 a.m. Sunday, clocks may be set ahead one hour upon retiring Saturday night.

While the time change will cause Quad-Cityans to lose an hour's sleep, they will regain it when the period ends on the fourth Sunday in October, with clocks set back an hour at that time.

HAZARDOUS PRACTICE of parking without no-parking areas near many Quad-City schools while parents wait for their children. In a staff photograph by Pat Foley, a motorist waits near the front entrance of Washington School on West 20th Street. West 20th presents a special problem as it is a narrow two-way street which is heavily traveled. Some sources suggest that a possible solution to this school's parking and pick-up hazards might be to change the street to a one-way street for several blocks, making it easier for passing vehicles to dodge around legally and illegally parked vehicles near the school. Thurs., April 27, 1978 Page 2

Auto tags, due Monday

By statute, Granite City residents are supposed to have vehicle tax stickers on their car windshields by Monday, but police say they do not plan an immediate crackdown on the vehicle stickers.

Automobile stickers cost $3 each until May 15, and they will increase to $5.50 each, starting May 16. Truck stickers range from $8 to $25 and will increase by $2.50 each after May 15.

Senior citizens may purchase one sticker only for $1 through May 15 at the senior citizen center by showing their driver's license and vehicle registration card. Additional stickers for senior citizens must be purchased at the regular price.

For the convenience of city residents, several special sales locations and dates have been arranged. Tomorrow, and on Friday, May 5, stickers will be sold at the Colonial Bank of Granite City, 2400 Pontoon Road, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., and on the same Fridays at American Heritage Bank from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 3:45 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Saturday, stickers may be purchased from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Tri-City Grocery in Bellemore Village Shopping Center, and Saturday, May 6, there will be deputy clerks at Cohen's Foods, 2201 Illinois Ave., from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Granite City residents are being urged to obtain their vehicle tax stickers as soon as possible, City Clerk Robert W. Stevens, said.

Rites held for Mrs. Keeler, 94

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at a Granite City funeral home for Mrs. Myrtle Grace Keeler, 94, a resident at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

She died at 11:40 a.m. Sunday, April 23, at the nursing home. Born in Porter County, Ind., Mrs. Keeler resided in this area 58 years.

Mrs. Keeler was a member of the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. Her husband, Paul Keeler, died in 1967.

Survivors include five children, Mrs. Gladys Robertson, Mrs. William (Alice) Felton, Edward and John McKinney, all of Granite City and Howard McKinney, 15 grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

Burial was in St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Emergency farm aid unlikely

(Press-Record Washington Bureau)

Expanded federal credit for farmers and ranchers appears to be the only emergency relief for the agricultural community, which Congress will provide this year.

Little hope is given for any scaled-down version of the price-support boosting emergency farm aid bill rejected by the House on a 268 to 165 vote.

House Agriculture Committee Chairman Tom Foley, D-Wash., is considering offering a more modest version to expand 1978 price supports beyond the levels prescribed in the four-year farm bill Congress approved last November.

But the impetus for such measures appear to be lost.

"The farmers have all left in a mood of disappointment," noted Hyde Murray, counsel to Republican members of the House Agriculture Committee.

"They are not pressing for any bones to be thrown them."

Similar thoughts are offered by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., third-ranking Republican on the Agriculture Committee.

"I know Foley has a lot of static from the folks back home," said Findley.

But my guess is it will not result in any legislation. It is awfully late for one thing — crops already are being planted. And it would take a near-miracle to get anything out of here before the end of April."

Most of the pressure for the rejected emergency farm aid bill came from the wheat states. If Foley should press just for higher supports for wheat, it probably would meet with Congressional rejection, Findley said.

"It is difficult to get a bill through Congress dealing with a single commodity," said Findley.

"The credit bills will make do to alleviate the current emergency."

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans and grants to farmers and ranchers unable to secure adequate credit at reasonable rates from private lenders.

With farm debt increasing as a result of low commodity prices, higher production costs and the 1977 drought, more farmers are being turned away by commercial institutions and are turning to the FHA.

Pending legislation would increase the limits on the federal loans; change the interest rates; make cooperatives, partnerships and private domestic corporations eligible for loans; establish a special loan program for small family farmers; set up a temporary loan program to aid those suffering from the current credit crunch, and extend the emergency livestock credit act for another year.

Modifications are expected, but some version is likely to reach President Carter's desk.

Findley and Edward Madigan, the other Illinois Republican on the committee, favor providing temporary operating loans and loans to make payments that will be coming due. But they are opposed to provisions which would shift permanent debt financing from the public institutions to the government.

"This bill now would benefit very few in Illinois," Findley said. "The chief benefits will go to bankers who made some bad loans."

He does not expect that farmers will be satisfied with just expanded credit.

Although he opposed the emergency farm aid bill backed by the American Agriculture Movement, Findley was impressed by the group's perseverance.

"This has been the most persistent effort of lobbying I have ever seen," Findley said.

The AAM, while falling short of its objective, did succeed in winning Senate approval and in prompting the House and Senate Agriculture Committees to give prompt attention to their demands, Findley noted.

Unless there are substantial improvements in market prices, he thinks he and his colleagues will find farmers camped on their doorsteps again.

"But my hope is that we can consider things settled for this year," he said.

John 14:1-3 "Let not your heart be troubled..."

There is so much sorrow in our world. Even in the midst of plenty, we hear people saying, "Is this all there is? I can assure you, this is not all there is. There is a place that passes understanding for the followers of Christ, and to all who have the desire to follow him."

No matter how dark the night, Christ can put stars into our sky and bring a glorious morning after the darkness. We have comfort in the most hopeless grief.

Do you hear him say, "Let not your heart be troubled? Will you listen?"

Historical groups will review goals

Representatives of more than 30 historical and genealogical societies in Southwestern Illinois have been invited to meet at SIUE on Saturday.

Sponsored by the SIUE Department of Historical Studies, the meeting and luncheon will be held for a discussion of objectives common to the respective societies, according to Herbert Rosenthal, chairman of the department.

The objectives include:

- To awaken a historical consciousness in this area about the legacy that the area has left to the state and nation.
- To preserve historical resources that might otherwise be lost.
- To develop an oral history program to preserve information that could otherwise be lost.
- To investigate the possibility of obtaining outside funding for desirable programs.

Steel plant

ago, the city will maintain the section of street for public use.

Michigan Metal Processing conducts a pickling process and processing of rolled heavy-gauge steel.

The plant could complement local industry, since it could increase Granite City Steel's capacity for putting finished steel on the market and would provide a close source of supply for industries needing heavy-gauge rolled steel, particularly in the automotive field, according to Albert Jackson, company vice-president of administration.

The company would employ from 80 to 100 persons upon opening, Schuler said.

Granite City has issued industrial revenue bonds to aid in establishment of the Archer Daniels Midland plant, expansion of St. Elizabeth Hospital and construction of the Fernald Corp. plant on 25th Street.

—To determine how SIUE, as an institution, can bring history to communities in the area.

And to discuss how resources can be put to the service of the area.

SIUE President Kenneth Shaw also has been invited to speak at the meeting. Attendance is restricted to historical and genealogical society members and representatives of the university.

GC Steel

Parking will be available on the lot and along nearby streets, on which the Granite City Police Department has agreed there will be no enforcement of the normal parking regulations for those two days.

The most recent open house at Granite City Steel was in 1974, when more than 8,000 people toured the plant in a two-day period.

Granite City Steel dates its history to the construction of the Granite Iron Rolling Mills in St. Louis in 1878. That plant furnished steel for the production of graniteware at the nearby St. Louis Stamp Works.

When sales of graniteware continued to grow, the Niedringhaus family, which built both plants, decided that expansion was necessary. They bought land in 1882 for a new plant and town—at the present site of Granite City.

Water rate

expenses alone have increased 34.5 percent. Fuel and power expenses have increased 41 percent for reasons that have been well-publicized.

The company is committed to further capital improvements during 1978 of over $1,600,000 to adequately insure a proper water supply for general use and fire protection, Greaves noted.

Flexible time, career development program for university employees

Flexible work times for employees with special family circumstances, a review of all hiring and promotion practices, and the establishment of a career development program are among plans to improve the quality of life for employees at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Dr. Ria C. Frijters, vice-president for business affairs, addressed an audience of more than 200 employees and their guests this week at the eighth annual service awards and retirement banquet, outlining plans that the SIUE management has in store for its employees. Plans include:

- A "fair and equitable salary structure."
- Performance appraisals and career development.
- Promotion from within.
- Flexible work times.
- An improved communications system.
- Moving the personnel department to a more accessible location; and
- A review of all hiring and promotional practices.

In reaffirming the university's commitment to continue to strive for a fair salary structure, Dr. Frijters said, "In a time when inflationary pressures eat away at real income, salaries must remain one of our foremost concerns."

The university will continue to point out the differences between the average salaries of its civil service workers and those who work for other state agencies. "Internally, however, salary improvements can be achieved through increased productivity," she said.

It will continue to honor negotiated labor contracts and preserve good labor relations in every way possible, Dr. Frijters said.

"A negotiated or prevailing pay rate or any other pay structure that applies equally to every member of a group — without regard to seniority or quality of performance — all employees, especially the women employees who are locked in stereotyped positions, to take advantage of a new career development program," she said.

Dr. Frijters believes the university's best interests are served when its goals run parallel with the goals of the individual. "We will encourage all employees, especially the women employees who are locked in stereotyped positions, to take advantage of a new career development program," she said.

However, the vice-president feels that such a program — without a commitment to promote from within — would be merely paying lip service.

For that reason, all vacancies in the organization will first be available to current employees.

"A new system of position management will result in an evaluation of proper job classifications and a hierarchy of positions which will facilitate training for and promotability to higher classification," Dr. Frijters said.

"Flexible work times may be arranged with employees under certain circumstances. Flexible times, within certain constraints, can mean earlier starting to work and earlier quitting times, or late start and late quitting. Many variations are possible."

Flexible work time might allow employees better access to educational programs, she noted.

To improve the communications system within SIUE, Dr. Frijters said a monthly news report will be published that will contain information of interest and value to employees.

A supervisory training program will be developed to assist all supervisory personnel in understanding policies and procedures so they apply equitably to all employees.

"Without capable supervisors, we cannot maintain good human relationships on a day-to-day basis," she said.

To better serve university employees, Dr. Frijters feels that the Personnel Department should be more centrally located. Within the next few months, it is to be moved to new quarters in the John S. Rensdeman Building.

What does the university expect to get in return? "A fair day's work for a fair day's pay," Dr. Frijters said. "Personnel is the university's most valued, and also its most costly, resource."

"Those who do not contribute to the best of their ability, rob the system and their coworkers. The quality of SIUE as a place of work is dependent on the morale, the team spirit, and the loyalty of all."

The university administrator told the audience that management is not always right, but neither are employees. "Inasmuch as the university is committed to respect the employees' needs wherever possible, we request an understanding for the needs and goals of the university. Improved communications in both directions will aid our mutual understanding."

"We will deal in an appropriate manner with willful violations of rules and policy. The proverbial rotten apple will find it hard to exist in the SIUE basket."

National Steel shipments, sales rise but coal strike cuts earnings in half National Steel Corporation earned $2.4 million, or 13 cents per share, in the first quarter of 1978, Chairman George A. Stinson reported to stockholders at the corporation's annual meeting held yesterday in Pittsburgh.

"This compares with 1977 first-quarter earnings of $5 million, or 26 cents per share."

"As expected, the coal strike had an extremely heavy impact on first-quarter results, more than offsetting the improvements in pricing and operating efficiencies achieved at many of our facilities," Stinson said.

"We have come through the longest coal strike in the history of the industry."

"The cost of idle coal facilities was combined with quadrupled coke-making costs, heavy substitution of expensive purchased fuels to replace unavailable coke even gas, increased electricity bills and sporadic shutdowns in our mills because of electric power curtailments."

"These factors wiped out the gains achieved in other areas."

"Sales and other income for the first quarter of 1978 totaled $484.3 million, compared to $75.0 million for the first quarter of 1977."

"During the first three months of this fiscal and calendar year, the company sold one of its older ore boats, the E. T. Weir, and also sold its interest in American Magnesium at Snyder, Texas."

"These two transactions had no material impact on the first-quarter earnings results, Stinson said."

"As we move into the second quarter, orders for our flat-rolled sheet and strip remain strong, and we expect shipments in the upcoming quarter to be ahead of those in the first quarter," he added.

"Related steel demand was particularly noteworthy in a number of industries, including: containers, appliances, construction, converters, furniture, trucks and buses, and tubing."

"Also, we will be monitoring closely the impact of the Administration's trigger pricing plan, whose effect should become more apparent toward the end of the second quarter."

"We have begun to see some shift in orders from customers who purchased foreign steel, and we are hopeful this trend will continue," Stinson concluded.

National Steel's divisions include Granite City Steel.

Airport

If Granite City wants an airport, let them put it in Granite City."

Dr. Donald Coleman, chairman of the airport committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, attempted to explain that many of the objections were answered in the plan, which would prohibit large airplanes and most jets from landing because the runway would be too short.

Coleman, who works for Granite City Steel, said the proposed 3,400-foot runway would be too small for even large jets and that most jets require a minimum of 4,000-foot runways to take off.

He said plans are to have the air traffic patterns set for all airplanes to approach the airport from over Horseshoe Lake and that airplanes which do pass over a small portion of Arlington Heights will be at a minimum of 1,000 feet.

"A small plane at 1,000 feet will cause less noise on the ground than your neighbor's lawnmower," he said.

He noted that 85 percent of the aircraft being flown today are propeller-driven, but that the major airlines are logging the big airports and private aviation by small planes is being limited and may soon be curtailed entirely at Lambert St. Louis International Airport.

Small commercial airports, such as the planned Lakeside airport, will soon be the only facilities open to businesses which use small planes.

Lakeside Airport could be a boon to the entire St. Louis metropolitan area since it is within minutes of downtown St. Louis and many downtown firms now using Lambert Field would find the Lakeside location much closer for business conducted with small airplanes.

He said the proposed airport would be much smaller than the commercial airports at Part B-St. Louis or Alton, but would provide at least 11 new jobs in the township.

Among persons who would be employed would be an airport supervisor, mechanics, inspectors, maintenance men, workers to taxi and refuel planes and others.

Gasoline sales would increase surrounding homes and land.

Trustee W. Lee Adams noted that a pending bill, House Bill 2787, would give cities the authority to annex anything which had a water reservoir.

"All they would have to do is put some water tank out there and they could annex it," he continued.

Coleman said annexation by the city carries a host of responsibilities, including providing fire, police, sewer and other services. He noted the city would be unable to provide adequate fire protection without building a new fire station on the east side of the Route 162 railroad crossing.

Adams stressed, "I know this board would strictly oppose Granite City trying to annex this."

Concern also was expressed that airport noise could disrupt campers, picnickers and wildlife at the lake park. Dr. Coleman answered that several state parks in the state have airports in the parks, including Starved Rock State Park, which do not detract from the parks' recreational benefits.

Asked why the Chamber does not ask the state to develop the airport, Coleman noted the number of years the state has been working on the park and stated, "We are hoping to get this going immediately, not in eight years or more."

He also noted the state would not be eligible for the 80 percent federal grant and does not have surplus funds at this time to fully fund development of airports.

Coleman explained that the $5,000 feasibility study is required before application is made to Illinois to be included in the state's airport plan. The study would include the number of pilots and airplanes in the region, the locations of houses and buildings, the character of the soil, drainage and other factors.

After inclusion in the state and Illinois Department of Transportation plans, the airport commission they would apply to the National Airport Systems Plan for inclusion into the national plan. A planning grant may be sought from the Federal Aviation Administration during this period.

He said the "red tape" probably could not be done in a two-year span, but would be finished within three years.

Wins singing honor

Kelly Dutko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dutko, 1808 Fifth St., Madison, won first place in Greek Sing at Eastern Illinois University Sunday.

Miss Kelly directed her sorority, Sigma Sigma, Sigma, a group of 90 girls. They competed with 20 sororities and fraternities.

They sang a medley of songs from "My Fair Lady."

Federal funds from the FAA are available from an aviation fund which receives 7-cents for every gallon of aviation fuel sold in the country and a 2-cent annual assessment for each pound of every aircraft in operation.

Frank Mehele, Democratic precinct committeeman from Arlington Heights, presented a petition bearing about 100 signatures opposing development of the airport and said he could easily raise 500 more signatures, if necessary.

He noted with sanitary sewers coming soon, more homes and subdivisions are likely to be built near the airport in the near future, which will be affected by the noise.

He also said he feels the township should "cut Granite City off at the pass," to keep them from annexing the airport when receiving all revenues it generates.

Asked why Granite City does not develop an airport near the Tri-Cities Regional Port, Coleman said it is too close to the flight patterns for Lambert Field and is restricted for airport development.

Coleman presented the plans for the proposed airport, showing that it would extend from Route 111 southeast to the Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks.

The current runway, which is in poor condition, would be abandoned and a new runway would extend from the southeast corner of the property to the northwest corner, using all available space on the property for the 3,400-foot runway. He said it would be impossible to extend the runway beyond 3,400 feet without crossing either the railroad or Route 111.

Regional energy conservation approach suggested to mayors

St. Louis can lead the nation in the fight to save energy by creating a Regional Energy Conservation Bank, Barry M. Locke, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, proposed Wednesday night.

"Such an undertaking would develop and maintain an inventory of all energy resources within the bi-state region and would monitor and coordinate all St. Louis area conservation efforts," Locke told a meeting of the Southwest Illinois Council of Mayors at O'Fallon.

Calling the energy crisis "the most devastatingly serious problem out of war" that Americans face, Locke said, the establishment of the Regional Energy Conservation Bank (RECON) could "serve as an important planning tool for local communities and present an effective energy-conservation model for the entire nation."

Locke expressed the belief that Americans do not appear to be reacting with sufficient concern to "what is a well-acknowledged national energy problem."

"All too soon, we have forgotten the long, arduous lines at the gasoline stations in 1973," he said.

Effectively utilized, RECON could possibly stabilize area energy needs and supplies, tap federal information systems and strengthen the economy by attracting industry and potential employers to the St. Louis region, Locke said.

"Successful energy conservation would accrue benefits to both Illinois and Missouri," Locke said.

"Through RECON, we would remain constantly aware of our energy resources and then rely on our own ingenuity — reinforced by input from state and federal experts — to determine how to best conserve and utilize what we have."

"We must have alternative energy sources identified and necessary generating equipment in production within the next 20 to 25 years," Locke warned.

"In order to achieve this goal, important political and scientific decisions must be made in the days — not years — ahead to encourage exploration of new energy sources."

Locke said there are capable organizations in existence now that can serve as both the catalyst to spur interest in the creation of RECON, and as the "action entities" through which such a plan might be implemented.

"Bi-State is involved in various energy-conservation plans, including investigation into the economic feasibility of a trash-to-energy project and location of a coal transfer terminal at the Mississippi River's edge in north St. Louis."

"Of course, one of our most important contributions to the energy conservation effort is our continued operation of the region's mass transit system," Locke reminded the mayors.

"You represent the integral link in our regional governmental structure," Locke told the urban leaders.

"Bi-State stands ready to participate as a resource, an advisor, a coordinator, a conduit to the federal data bank, or in any manner that our commission and you, the civic leadership, see fit — whether it be through a Regional Energy Conservation Bank or other approaches not yet envisioned."

BATTERY IS ALLEGED
Darrin D. Obermeier, 18, of 1827 Third St., Madison, was charged with battery last night after he allegedly beat David Morse, 1411 Rhodes St., at Morse's home at 11:10 p.m.

Morse described the auto in which his assailant and another young man left the scene and police stopped a car of the same description a short time later and arrested Obermeier.

YOUNG MAN CHARGED
Danny A. Mabe, 17, of 1836 Poplar St., was charged yesterday with deceptive practices for allegedly cashing $25 checks on the account of Judith A. Lane, 1633 Minerva St., without Judith Lane's permission. Associate Judge Thomas Gibbons set his bond at $404 cash.

CAR IS STOLEN
The auto of John Rehwinkel, Lafayette, Ind., was stolen this week from the 1600 block of Delmar Avenue, the victim reported at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

A witness said a young man was seen driving the car away at noon Sunday. The auto is a white vinyl over red 1973 Ford Mustang two-door.

Arrested in Dupo was James Durech, 20, of Dupo, on the same charge, and at 12:20 p.m. Tuesday, Larry Ottinger, 22, of 915 Niedringhaus Ave., was arrested at his home for alleged unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

Fritschel noted the investigation is continuing.

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer said that confidential information received by Granite City officers was relayed to the DOI during the period last year when the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGS) was closed temporarily awaiting refunding by the state legislature.

The follow-up on these tips and information received from other departments led to the arrests, Veizer explained.

Six persons were arrested in Granite City and Madison County state's attorney's office.

The operation involved street-level trafficking in drugs for resale to local drug abusers. It is felt that these arrests will have a detrimental effect on subjects trafficking in pharmaceutical drugs."

Fritschel said after the first series of arrests Tuesday morning.

Safety study by inspector

Complaints first investigated by the Press-Record in late 1974 of alleged conditions at the Archer Daniels Midland Co. soybean processing plant and grain elevator on Carroll Road are continuing. The federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) is monitoring the subject, spokesman in the OSHA Belleville office said Tuesday.

OSHA has made several inspections of the grain elevator and some citations have been issued, Richard Taylor, an inspector for the federal agency, said.

Taylor related that improvements have been made since a fire in a silo in March 1976. A citation at that time recommended training in firefighting methods.

Years ago, elevators reduced the danger of explosions from grain dust by venting it into the outside air, he said. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency outlawed the practice and ordered grain elevators to capture the dust and contain it within the plants, he added.

As dust filtering and collection systems were put into grain elevators, the risk of explosions from the dust increased, many persons contend.

Employees say filters designed to capture dust occasionally become clogged.

Asked about safety factors, ADM officials here said this week that they have no comments.

Among points of interest to Taylor are handling of the chemical hexane and its fumes. It is described by the company as a necessary part of the oil extraction process.

ADM regards itself as highly experienced in soybean plant operations and says its safety performance records are "excellent."

Burglars flee
A security guard at Callier Steel Pipe and Tube, Inc., Missouri Avenue, watched while two men broke into a building on the storage yard at 7:50 p.m. Wednesday.

When the guard turned on a light in his mobile home office to call the police, the two men saw the light and fled in a light blue Ford Galaxie 500 auto which had a damaged front end.

The guard found a north door to a building on the lot had been broken in and a south door had been pried. A container of electrical cords and a circular saw had been placed by the north door.

The men were black, one being about 26 years old, 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighing about 150 pounds. The other was about 19 years old and weighed about 190 pounds, the guard estimated.

Wins BPW state Speak Off event

Linda L. Wetton, 3139 Princeton Drive, is the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's state winner in the Individual Development Speak Off Contest.

Miss Wetton represented the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club and District 14, IFBPW, in the statewide Speak Out event at the Illinois Federation's annual convention.

More than 950 women from BPW clubs throughout the state attended the four-day convention, which concluded this week at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis.

Thirty-one members of the Granite City BPW Club were registered at the annual conference.

As the state winner, Miss Wetton will represent Illinois at the National Federation of Business and Professional in 1904. One of the older churches in the area, it was organized on Aug. 6, 1901, with 22 charter members. The present facility was started in 1921 and completed in 1924. Rev. Marvin Peters serves as minister at the present time.

She was named Young Career Woman by the local club in 1977 and was the recipient of the Norma Lengyel Scholarship Award, both last year and in the current club year.

As Young Careerist chairman in 1977, Miss Wetton helped to organize "Career Awareness Days" at both Granite city High schools, which attracted some 60 interested students.

Her hobbies are racquetball, reading and traveling. Last summer, she spent 10 weeks on independent tour of Europe, journeying through 10 countries.

Miss Wetton was in competition with 10 district candidates at the 1978 state convention. Her topic was "freedom."

Conventions topic of DUV Tent 90

The Sarah Jane McEvers, Tent 90, of the Daughters of Union Veterans, met during the weekend and discussed the history of Granite City, and also forthcoming convention dates. President Marie Boyd conducted the opening ceremonies and Louise Schlieff, acting chaplain, gave the prayer.

After the pledge to the flag was given in unison, Pearl Ward, secretary, read the national department DUV general orders.

The department convention for Illinois is set for June 3-4 in Peoria, and the national convention will be held in Vancouver, Wash., Aug. 6-10, it was announced.

Patriotic Instructor Sylvia Turner reported during the month of May flags should be displayed on Mother's Day, May 14, Armed Forces Day, May 20, and Memorial Day, May 30. On Memorial Day flags should be flown at half mast until 12 noon, she added.

Plans were made to purchase cards for Paralyzed Veterans of America, to purchase and place a wreath on Decoration Day, May 30. The group also discussed hosting a rummage sale on May 18, 19 and 20.

After an announcement in relation to the May 7 Spring House Tour of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society, a discussion was held on the history of Granite City.

During the historical review it was noted that in the spring of 1894 workmen began building factories in this area, now Granite City, which included the St. Louis Stamping Works, Granite City Steel Works, American Steel Co., and Market Lead Works.

During the early days 14,000 trees were planted, streets and sidewalks constructed as well as 100 brick houses, 50 single family dwellings and 52 two-family homes, with alternate lots left vacant for gardens.

Granite City was incorporated in 1896 with a population of 922. By 1898 the town could boast of a dry goods store, a grocery, drug shop, publisher, a hotel, a plumber, four doctors and a midwife.

The city grew to 3,122 by 1900, and a housing shortage developed. In 1910 the population was listed as 11,050 and the number of industrial plants had increased to 39, by the start of World War I.

Acknowledged during the meeting was birthdays of members, and "Secretaries Week. In relation to the observance DUV secretary Pearl Ward was awarded special honors.

A report was also given by Golda Mohrman, treasurer, and hostess Marie Boyd served birthday cake and ice cream.

Church Women to feed 1,300 at SIUE Special Olympics

A united effort by Quad-City area churches is under way to help make successful a massive feeding project spearheaded by Church Women United, Mrs. Marion Pierson, CWU president, said this week.

The project involves supplying and serving lunch to 1,300 participants in the Special Olympics for the Handicapped, scheduled Saturday, May 6, at the soccer field at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The CWU executive board and a special committee appointed to coordinate the large-scale project met last week at Nemoiki Presbyterian Church to review last minute details. Mrs. Pat McAmish, food committee chairman, announced that Burger Chef restaurants have donated 1,500 hamburgers and more than 124 gallons of juice for the Special Olympics. Ken Coleman, Burger Chef district supervisor, told the CWU representatives that his employees "will do all they can to make this project a successful one."

Several food manufacturers in this area have agreed to donate various products, Mrs. Ellen Wilson, co-chairman, reported. Among the firms are Flavor-Kist, Old Vienna, Pepsi Cola and Bunny Bread.

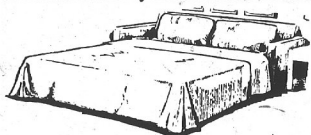

First Granite City National Bank and First National Bank in Madison are contributing paper products needed for the luncheon. Mrs. Pierson said, Prairie Farms Dairy and S. M. Wilson Co., are providing transportation to the SIUE campus for the Church Women and the supplies.

Mrs. Helen Baran of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Madison, said many Quad-City churches are making a joint effort in support of the massive feeding program. Individuals and churches wishing to contribute and help in the project are invited to contact Mrs. McAmish or Mrs. Wilson at 876-3431.

Mrs. Louise Ware heads Lake PTA

Mrs. Louise Ware was elected Tuesday evening, at the April meeting of the Lake School Parent-Teacher Association, to serve as president for the 1978-79 school year. Serving with her will be Mrs. Paula Turpen, vice-president, Mrs. Faye Hester, secretary, and Mrs. Shirley Strain, treasurer. These officers will be installed on May 16, with Mrs. Barb Haddock, Area Council president, serving as installing officer.

David Johnson, the current president, opened the meeting by leading in the pledge of allegiance, which was followed by the PTA prayer.

Mrs. Betty Gorch, chairman of Lake's annual Spring Carnival, reported that workers are still needed, as well as donations of cakes, used items for "The Second Chance", home-made items for "The Country Store".

Johnson announced that the erection of a fence between the new section of Maryville road and the school playground will begin the first week of May. Children have not been allowed to play at that end of the playground this spring because of the potential danger involved, it was announced.

A name-sign for the school is being prepared and will be erected on the school's front lawn as soon as it is completed. This will be a gift to the school from the PTA, which also purchased almost $800 worth of equipment and educational aids for the school this year.

Johnson and his wife, Staretta, will represent Lake School's PTA unit at the state convention in Chicago, next month.

Mrs. Dorothy Dickerson's first-grade class won the attendance banner, and Mrs. Phyllis Warford was presented with the evening prize.

Following adjournment of the meeting, the gym classes of Miss Janie Melch presented a program of dancing, which also included the children's parents. Refreshments were served by the kindergarten mothers.

Holy week services at Nativity of Virgin Mary

Holy week observances are continuing this week at the Nativity of Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church, Fifth and Ewing streets, Marion. Matins with passion gospels will begin at 7 p.m. today, the Rev. Vladimir Lecko said. Tomorrow, Good Friday for the faith, will begin with royal hours at 6:30 a.m. and at 3 p.m. Holy Friday vespers will be recited with the bringing out of the winding sheet.

At 7 p.m., there will be matins with lamentations (entrainment) and the vigil at the grave will begin. Church members are being asked to participate in the vigil and to register at the candlestand for a time slot.

Holy Saturday observance will include confessions at 3 p.m., the Vespers Liturgy of St. Basil at 4 p.m., a general confession at 11 p.m. and at 11:30 p.m., there will be, in sequence, nocturne, procession and restoration of the Paschal baskets, and then the sharing of Paschal foods in the rectory hallway.

Sunday, Holy Pascha Day, will begin at 4 p.m. at St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church in St. Louis, sponsored by the Eastern Orthodox Church Federation of St. Louis. Divine liturgy services at 9 a.m. will be held on Bright Monday, May 1, and Bright Tuesday, May 2, Rev. Lecko said.

KC-Shrine May dinner

The Edwardsville Knights of Columbus and the Edwardsville Shrine Club will co-sponsor their annual family-style dinner on Sunday, May 21, at the Knights of Columbus Club grounds on State Route 143 (Marine Road) at the east city limits of Edwardsville.

All profits will be given to selected charities of the two organizations.

In the past six such dinners, beneficiaries have included retarded children's groups, the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, Cardinal Glennon Hospital for Children and the Oliver Anderson Hospital at Maryville.

Serving of barbecued pork steaks and fried chicken with side dishes will take place between 11:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Patrons may eat as much as they wish. There will be continuous entertainment under a big tent to be set up on the grounds.

Several dance bands, a Dixieland group and musical groups of the Alford Shrine Temple are slated to perform during the day. Dinners may eat either in the air-conditioned K of C club or outdoors under the tent, and may park free on VFW Post 1299 grounds adjacent to the dinner site.

The cost is $4 for an adult, and $2 for children 12 and younger. Tickets may be purchased in advance from the Shrine Temple, either organization and will be available at the site on the day of the dinner.

Gospel Lights to sing here

The Gospel Lights, a singing group from the area, will appear at the Bethesda Baptist Church, 3055 Nameoki Drive, at 8 p.m. Sunday, April 30, the Rev. Luther Abbott, host pastor announced.

Members of the group are known for their love on the guitar with his son, Kevin on the bass guitar, from St. Louis.

Granite residents, who are members include Paul Timan who plays the lead guitar and his son, Cecil, on the mandolin and Harlan Luffman on the banjo. Timan and his son are also members of the Troy Opera at Troy, Ill.

News notes

About 250 are expected to attend a Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and Women's Division board member recognition dinner at 6 p.m. Saturday at Sunset Hills Country Club.

A federal grand jury which has been studying the Madison County sheriff department is in session today at the federal building in Springfield.

St. Elizabeth Hospital is among those assisting in an emergency medical service drill today in Madison County. A railroad disaster was simulated in East Alton.

Godfrey Township has gone to court to seek a larger distribution of street and highway fines in that region. Absence of specific street or roads on many arrest tickets has been cited by circuit clerk Willard V. Portell.

Fires from gas seeping into five Hartford homes in the last month are attributed to a combination of underground methane gas and gasoline that may escape from pipelines connected to oil refineries.

Governor James Thompson said Monday he doubts that privately-owned horse race betting messenger services can co-exist with proposed state municipal off-track betting parlors.

Director Tyrone Fahner of the Illinois Law Enforcement Department this week ordered a statewide investigation of the handling of child abuse cases by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

U.S. Steel on Tuesday reported a record quarterly loss of $58 million.

The Illinois Senate Executive Committee on Tuesday unanimously approved all eight State Board of Elections nominees and Theodore Puckert as Administrative Services Department director.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled 6-2 Tuesday that pension plans requiring larger contributions from women, even though they average live longer than men.

Reacting to speculation about Executive Mansion costs, Gov. Thompson released a report Tuesday saying he reduced the mansion's payroll and food costs during his first year in office, compared to the Walker administration.

Hope for an independent Armenia

To the Editor:
April 24, 1915, will long be remembered by the Armenians who were forced to flee their homeland.

Many of the Armenians who survived the brutal torture, but witnessed the first mass genocide — of 1.5 million Armenians — in this 20th Century, have scars to prove exactly what transpired.

Those who witnessed the horrendous genocide have continued to tell their stories.

Sixty-three years have passed. The massacre ordered by Talaat Pasha, the Turkish Minister of Interior who sought to eliminate all of the Armenians, was almost a success.

These crimes committed by the Turkish government have continued to be denied by the Turks in spite of documented proof.

On April 24, 1978, sixty-three years later, the Armenians are still without an independent country have survived the severe punishment of Talaat Pasha and his regime. We thank God for our strong religious ties, our beautiful language, and all of the history and culture.

We are grateful that our parents were able to flee their Armenia to various parts of the world to make a new home. We look forward to the day when Armenia will be independent and Mt. Ararat will return to its rightful owner, Armenia.

Disclosure legislation by McPike rejected in Ill. House

It is nice to know, we suppose, that Governor James Thompson has proposed a 21-bill ethics package that includes establishment of a Board of Ethics. But the likelihood of approval is dimmed by the General Assembly's attitude.

The governor's 1977 ethics package was bottled up by a Senate committee, it will be recalled. And the House Executive Committee has just voted 11-12 — with 15 votes needed for passage — thus blocking a bill that would have required public officials to identify income, liabilities and assets by source in three (less-than-$10,000, $10,000-to-$100,000 and more-than-$100,000) categories.

The latest setback is of particular concern to State Rep. Jim McPike of this district, sponsor of the legislation along with Rep. Jim Reilly of Jacksonville. They felt that the proposed disclosure of income sources would have illuminated lawmakers' voting records on specific issues.

Ethics bills, it would seem, continue to be easier to support in theory than in actual practice.

Will the 21-unit election-year package fare any better? House Speaker William Redmond may have provided a clue to the answer in his response to the governor: "It's kind of hard to be against ethics. We're all for ethics. But we're going to have to take a look at this package to see what the situation might be."

City's founding company preparing for 100th anniversary

Granite City Steel's history is so closely interwoven with Granite City itself that added impact is assured for the steelmaker's centennial observance.

A public open house will be conducted on Friday and Saturday, May 19-20, at the century-old company's ultra-modern plant. Residents of this community and the surrounding region are greatly affected by the well-being of the vast industrial facility here. And the operations of Granite City Steel and its parent corporation, National Steel, are worldwide in scope.

All wish the steel men and women good luck on the occasion of their 100-year celebration, and continued success in their second century of providing the public with essential materials and products.

Deserved emphasis on children in May Day observance

May Day belongs to children. Governor James Thompson made it official when he declared Monday, May 1, Save the Children Day '78.

In the proclamation, the governor said, "I encourage parents and their children to participate in special events planned in our communities so they may better the lives of all children."

Initiated by Save the Children, an international child assistance agency headquartered in Westport, Conn., festivities have been planned throughout the United States and abroad to coincide with May Day.

The purpose is to focus public concern on the needs of poor children, their families and communities throughout the world, and to serve as an annual occasion for rededication to serving the needs of children everywhere.

In schools in the U.S., children will compose letters to world leaders asking for new efforts toward world peace. Formal proclamations of the day are being issued by officials. On American Indian reservations, such as the Hopi in Arizona and the Zia and Jemez Pueblos in New Mexico, children will plant trees and undertake clean-up projects.

A vacant lot in Bedford-Stuyvesant, Brooklyn, will be transformed into a vegetable and flower garden by school children, their teachers and parents and a volunteer group of Save the Children headquarters staff members.

Save the Children works in 230 communities in the United States, helping people in Appalachia, inner cities, the rural south and among American Indians and Chicanos. The 46-year-old organization also assists children and their families in 203 areas overseas — including Bangladesh, Cameroon, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Greece, Guatemala, Honduras, India, Indonesia, Israel, Italy, Korea, Lebanon, Mexico, Tanzania, Upper Volta and Yemen.

Sounder ways than off-track betting to provide revenue

Edwardsville Intelligencer — Before Illinois legislators approve off-track betting, they should consider how New York tries to handle one of the side effects.

Off-track betting is heavily advertised in New York. Recent ads not only show four happy winners, but they contain the following message:

"Bet with your head, not over it. For information on the most effective treatment for the compulsive gambler, contact the National Council on Compulsive Gambling."

The message is little different, of course, from the warning notice on cigarette packages. It probably is just about as effective.

The problems gambling produces, however, were neglected last week as Illinois officials backed off-track betting as a new source of revenue for state and local government.

A governor's commission issued a final report endorsing it. Chicago would get $21.5 million in revenue from the plan, and the state could expect to earn about $2.3 million, the commission said.

Chicago Mayor Michael Bilandic said he would like to see off-track betting established as soon as possible. Gov. James Thompson has not taken a stand on it, but some Democratic legislators are eager to introduce a bill to legalize it.

Before the support for this form of legalized gambling becomes overwhelming, consider these problems:

—Gambling is a disease to some persons. The presence of convenient gambling parlors will make it easier for the compulsive gamblers and their families to suffer its consequences.

—Other forms of gambling, such as the Illinois lottery, have not been the consistent revenue sources that their backers had expected.

—Off-track betting probably will cut attendance at race tracks, which will mean less gambling and concession revenue.

—Winning in legal off-track betting are taxable. Winners in the popular illegal numbers games aren't likely to report their winnings. Thus, the illegal games provide a more attractive chance of profit for those who play them.

These drawbacks suggest that off-track betting isn't the painless revenue source that some hope it to be.

The social consequences seem to outweigh the flood of revenue which lawmakers hope will be available each year for city and state governments.

More painful but sounder ways to provide revenue are available. Lawmakers should consider other possible sources of revenue, including increases in the sales and income taxes.

Taxes an issue

SPRINGFIELD — Everyone agrees taxes are high and governmental bodies should operate under a balanced budget.

There is a chance that Illinois voters could express their displeasure in these areas in November.

That is, providing a constitutional amendment seeking a ceiling on taxes is approved by the Senate this spring. The proposal (HJR A-22) already has passed the House. In the Senate it is in the Executive Committee.

The proposal, sponsored by Rep. Donald L. Totten, R-Hoffman Estates, would require that state taxes and all other forms of revenue be no more than 7 percent of the total annual personal income in Illinois.

California will have before them in the June elections a proposal to place a ceiling on local property taxes. A proposal similar to the Totten amendment was proposed in California in 1973.

The amendment has been introduced in Illinois as the "Taxpayers' Rights Amendment." It passed the House on a vote 115-45 last June. The measure needed a three-fifths vote because it is a constitutional amendment. This means it had to receive 107 votes.

When the measure was debated on the House floor last June it had some trouble. The first time he called for final action on the measure on June 16, Totten had to hold up on it because the support just wasn't there. Three days later it passed.

During debate on the House floor there were charges and countercharges as to where Gov. James R. Thompson stood on the proposal. Up to now Thompson has not taken a public stand either in support or opposition to the measure. Proponents are scheduled to introduce debates that some of his aides did not openly endorse the program.

Legislators now are saying taxes are moving to the forefront as one of the top issues for the coming General Assembly.

Rep. John S. Mattijevich, D-Waukegan, head of the House Appropriations Committee, has sent letters to House Speaker William A. Redmond, D-Bensenville, saying he feels relief for the property taxpayers should be the top subject matter for the spring legislative session.

Redmond has pointed out he is unhappy with the way tax multipliers as well as tax assessments are being handled. The tax multiplier is the domain of the local Government Affairs Department. Use of the multiplier on county tax assessments could become a hot issue between local government units and the governor's office.

Thompson recently traveled to Washington to testify on federal legislation. While there he hinted at what might be in his budget for the next fiscal year. Thompson said he did not contain a tax hike. But he did not indicate if any reform in taxes on the state level would be proposed for the coming legislative session.

ANALYSIS Farmers' incomes on skids

By GORDON BILLINGSLEY

Average income for many Illinois farmers, when measured in a manner comparable to salaries, last year plunged more than $14,000 from the previous year, a farm record analysis shows.

Low grain prices and ever-increasing costs of production are blamed for the income dip.

The figures were taken from a computer record system involving more than 7,000 Illinois farmers. The system called Farm Business Farm Management records, is coordinated by the University of Illinois.

The FBFM record analysis, released by the U of I, shows that the average income of participating farmers in 1977 was $2,594. That is down from $17,871 in 1976.

Farmers in central Illinois, where soils are the most fertile in the state, fared somewhat better than those in other parts of Illinois. Average income in about a 30-county region around Springfield to Champaign was reported as $6,477. That is down from $23,784 in the recent peak income year of 1976.

An area of west-central Illinois that was stricken with drought last year — the Macomb-Quincy area — reported farmer losses averaging $3,821. Farmers in that area had made profits averaging more than $27,000 in 1975.

The cost of producing a bushel of corn last year was $2.48, up from $2.01 in 1976, according to the FBFM records. The price of corn to the farmer for the 1977-78 marketing year, however, has ranged from about $1.60 to about $2.30 per bushel.

The cost of producing soybeans averaged about $5.30 a bushel, the records show. Soybean prices have ranged from about $4.60 to about $7, with some forward contracting up to $5.40 per bushel.

The projected costs of production for this year have been calculated as $2.21 per bushel for corn and $5.44 per bushel for soybeans.

Most of the expected decline for corn, however, is not from decreasing costs but from expectations of improved yields this year. If weather does not cooperate, the cost per bushel of corn will not decrease. Actual soybean producing costs will rise only slightly, the U of I predicts. But yields are expected to decline from the relatively good year in 1977, boosting the per bushel cost of producing beans.

Concern on board vacancy procedure

To the Editor:

We, the Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, are displeased with the latest actions of the Madison Board of Education.

The NAACP in good faith and intention, offered to help the board in selecting a person to fill the board vacancy that existed.

With its latest actions, it appears the board wants no help or advice only when there is trouble in the school district.

We realize that the board members have all the rights and privileges to select whomever they please. But, at the same time, it might be constructive if they were listening to concerned people and organizations in the community.

So, at this time, it seems like the Board of Education is back at its old games of playing politics.

"The Board of Education shall be non-political." That directive seems to be long forgotten.

The board seems to accept advice only when there is trouble in the school district. It might pay to accept a little advice when things are calm and smooth.

We did recommend an outstanding community-family person and leader in the community in his own right. But the person was completely ignored.

We simply want board members to know that we are aware of their little games and will continue to watch and listen to their actions.

We also want to let the public know of their little behind-the-scenes games. We have fought hard and long for the people and will continue to do so.

Car pools popular among those using area bridges

Preliminary findings of a current study of Mississippi River bridge usage were released yesterday at a meeting of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors.

East-West Gateway is currently conducting the study to determine ways to attract Illinois commuters from the free Poplar Street Bridge to the other downtown bridges — especially Eads and Mark Twain. Other bridges include Venice's McKinley Bridge.

Primary findings come from a questionnaire distributed to 3,500 downtown workers at 20 major employers. Tabulation of the 1,000 returned questionnaires shows that:

—About 70 percent of Illinois commuters ride in a car pool at least part of the time.

—About 33 percent of Illinois drivers use the Poplar Street Bridge.

—Two-thirds of all workers surveyed arrive at downtown St. Louis between 7:15 and 8 a.m. and leave between 4:15 and 5 p.m.

Residences of those surveyed approximated the distribution of Illinoisans working downtown taken from 1970 census data: about nine percent from the Alton-Edwardsville area, 15 percent from the Quad-Cities here, 68 percent from the East St. Louis-Belleview corridor, and 10 percent from the Columbia-Waterloo area.

The questionnaire results will be compiled with other data to determine whether the other CBD (central business district) bridges offer attractive alternatives to the Poplar Street route.

Subsequent steps needed to complete the total study will be to analyze available alternatives, to conduct an engineering study of the physical condition of the older bridges, and to investigate the financial status of the structures and alternative financing arrangements.

In another matter, the Gateway board heard a report on the impact of the Federal Clean Air Act on the St. Louis region.

Congress recently enacted amendments to the act which provide for federal sanctions against metropolitan areas that do not meet federal air standards.

The sanctions include banning new development and withholding federal grant money for highways, sewage treatment plants and air quality programs.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency first announced its intention to institute such sanctions in the St. Louis bi-state area in March of this year, citing pollution of Illinois Bay by Missouri industry, thus limiting Illinois' growth potential, as grounds for denial of an emissions variance request to Union Electric.

The State of Illinois has also instituted legal proceedings against UE on the same grounds.

East-West Gateway Coordinating Council has been charged with the responsibility of developing control strategies for vehicle-related pollution in the metropolitan area and must submit a plan for meeting federal standards by January 1979.

In other actions, the board: —Approved a water quality management (208) plan for the five-county, Missouri portion of the St. Louis region. The 208 plan is aimed at reducing pollution in the region's waters, and is part of a national effort being conducted by the EPA.

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission prepared a 208 plan for Madison, Moore and St. Clair Counties. The two plans are coordinated.

—Endorsed an application from the City of Kinloch for $64,000 in community development grant funds. The city plans to use the funds for housing rehabilitation and constructing a sanitary sewer system.

League says ERA would benefit men

(League of Women Voters of Illinois) The Equal Rights Amendment... who needs it? Everyone. Husbands and wives, homemakers and working women, widows and widowers, sons and daughters — all need it.

Equal rights and the proposed 27th Amendment aren't just women's issues. Everyone benefits.

For those in Illinois who say, "Who needs it?", it's time to spell out what ERA will do.

ERA will equalize Social Security and pension benefits. Husbands will be able to draw on their wives' Social Security, just as wives draw now on their husbands' Social Security.

If the wife would die, retire or be disabled, her family would receive the same benefits as if her husband died, retired, etc. ERA will extend protection laws to both men and women.

Restrictive labor laws that apply only to women will be eliminated, and those beneficial laws which have protected women from harsh or unusual working conditions will be extended to men.

ERA will ensure equal educational opportunities for all children. Public schools will have to have the same admission policies, counseling, programming and financial assistance for men and women. Sons and daughters will have an equal chance.

ERA will act as the impetus for each state to revise discriminatory laws.

Without a constitutional amendment, the process of change would be slow and haphazard.

A constitutional amendment will ensure that positive laws on equal credit, employment and education will not be erased at a later date.

ERA will recognize the role of the homemaker. For the first time, women who are homemakers will be given credit for the non-monetary contribution they make to the marriage.

This recognition will benefit them in the event of divorce or the death of their husband. Women will be free to choose a career inside or outside of the home.

ERA will guarantee women property rights.

Married women will be able to manage their separate property, like earnings and inheritance.

ERA will recognize that marriage is a partnership, and that both partners are entitled to share in the property acquired during marriage. The husband will no longer be considered the sole owner of the household goods.

ERA will ensure equal opportunity in military careers. Right now, women must have high school diplomas to enlist and be eligible for many military vocational training programs.

ERA will ensure equal enlistment requirements, as well as equal opportunities for assignments, promotions, and military pension and education benefits.

ERA will protect the right to privacy.

The separation of sexes in public places like bathrooms and dormitories is guaranteed by the Supreme Court. ERA will not challenge that right. It will ensure equal facilities for men and women.

When the talk turns to ERA, unfortunately it's more fiction than fact.

There are many positive things ERA will do, and there are some things that it just won't do.

ERA will not force bathrooms, barracks, dorms, etc., to be co-ed.

ERA will not force homemakers to get jobs and make an equal financial contribution to the marriage.

ERA will not eliminate existing laws against rape. It will not deprive women of their right to alimony.

ERA will not destroy family life. It will not change personal relationships between men and women. ERA will not affect the Supreme Court ruling on abortion.

ERA will not dictate homosexual marriages. ERA will not take away states' rights. It will not force churches to ordain women.

More facts... ERA is the proposed 27th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. It states, "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

ERA must be ratified by 38 states by March 23, 1979. To date, 35 states have ratified the amendment.

The U.S. House of Representatives approved ERA by a vote of 354 to 23. The U.S. Senate voted 84 to 8 in favor.

The last unofficial vote in Illinois was taken in June 1977, with the House voting 101 for and 74 against. The Senate voted 29 yes and 22 no in 1976.

'Holocaust' response—Carter wrong in seeking to force 'risks' for Israel

Near East Report — Anyone who watched NBC's Holocaust should have a better understanding of Israel's intense preoccupation with security.

The television drama and book by Gerald Green furnished six million reasons why the Jewish state's leaders insist upon defensive borders.

The message of Holocaust is contemporary as well as historical.

Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin, himself a Holocaust survivor, explained recently that in addition to Jews being the people about whom the term "genocide" was invented, Israel is the only country in the world about which there is a document — The PLO Covenant — stating that it should cease to exist.

The civilized world's indifference to the fate of the Jews during Hitler's reign is the most eloquent endorsement of the Zionist argument on the necessity of a Jewish state.

That is why the Jews are fighting the same imperialist British and French who ruled the Arab world.

Railroad promises to improve Venice street

The Illinois Central Gulf Railroad in a letter by W. T. Geserick, director intermodal operations, to Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt announced that the railroad is making plans to improve Main Street.

Residents for two years have filed complaints with the City Council about dust and hazards of trucks allegedly driving at high rates of speed and on private property from the piggy-back yard.

At the Tuesday night council meeting Venice aldermen discussed the closing of the street if the railroad does not take immediate steps to correct the problem.

Since the last council meeting, the street has been partially closed.

The letter reads in part, "We have now completed our studies as to what improvements will be made to this yard. We are studying capacity and improvements, which could include paving, to be accomplished during the year 1978. However, at this time I do not assure you just what will be done."

The council approved the hiring of Timmy B. Simmons, 22, of 1044 Third St., Venice, as a probationary patrolman, effective May 1.

Simmons has worked as a police dispatcher for the past four years and currently is taking firearms training.

Simmons holds an associate degree in law enforcement and presently is working on a bachelor's degree.

Building permits were approved for:

Dr. William Chen, DDS, 609 Broadway, addition, $15,000; Clarence Bradley, 504 Third St., $1,000; garage, Henry Hawthorne, 1314 Oriole St., $1,000; garage, Joe Meehan, 445 Lincoln St., $1,000; garage, Benjamin Honorable, 601 Jefferson St., $500; garage, and Wilbert G. Harper, 1103 Market St., garage, $2,000.

The police report for the month of March submitted by Venice Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley stated there were 17 adult arrest and six juvenile arrests, with $565 in fines received from the clerk of the circuit court.

City Attorney Harry Hartman noted that there are several pieces of property that the city will have to condemn before the city can tear them down.

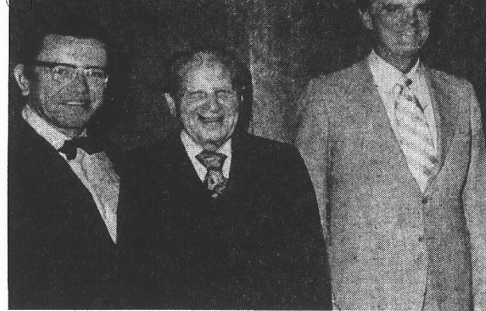

Alderman E. H. Buentge presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor Ebersoldt who was ill.

Gas released to 17,933 applicants

Illinois Power Company on Tuesday notified the Illinois Commerce Commission of its intention to release 7,600,000 cubic feet a year of natural gas to 17,933 applicants who had permit requests on file at 12 company offices as of April 25.

Of the applicants on file April 25, residential applicants number 16,472, with the rest falling in the commercial and industrial categories.

It is the largest proposed release of natural gas since the "controlled attachment" priority system went into effect due to the gas shortage.

Dan Walker, and former Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett, with State Comptroller Bakalis, Illinois Democratic Party Chairman John P. Touhy and Richard Durbin, the party's nominee for lieutenant governor.

Simon, Walker, Shapiro, Howlett endorse Bakalis

Illinois Democratic Party Chairman John P. Touhy on Monday announced the appointment of four top state Democrats to serve as co-chairmen of the United Democratic Party Committee to Elect Michael J. Bakalis as governor in 1978.

In a showing of party unity, former Governors Samuel H. Shapiro and Daniel Walker, U.S. Rep. Paul Simon (D-Ill.) and 1976 gubernatorial candidate Michael J. Howlett appeared with Bakalis at a news conference in Chicago to announce their joint support for his candidacy.

Simon has served as lieutenant governor (1968-72) and ran for governor in 1972. He formerly represented the local area in the Illinois legislature.

Speaking on behalf of the group, Touhy credited Bakalis with creating "a new spirit of unity and solidarity in the Democratic Party."

"Mike Bakalis has demonstrated, through his success in bringing these distinguished gentlemen together in his campaign, that he has strong leadership capabilities in addition to his other qualifications as a candidate," Touhy said.

"As you know, the four men appearing with Mike today have not always been on the same side of the fence."

"But today they recognize, as do all Illinois Democrats, that here is a man who will lead our party to victory this fall — not only because of his fine record as a public servant, but also because of the solid programs he offers the people of our great state."

Bakalis acknowledged that he had initiated contacts with the four men, saying, "Each of these gentlemen is a former governor of Illinois or has run for this very important office."

"I have sought their counsel as well as their support as my campaign gains momentum."

"It gives me great pleasure to thank each man publicly and to pledge that I will do everything in my power to justify their confidence in and support for my candidacy."

The candidate said his recently declared positions on the need for more jobs for Illinois, on educational finance and on property tax relief were instrumental in securing the support of the four men.

"I have discussed these and other issues with them, and I will be outlining my position on many more issues in the weeks immediately before us," Bakalis said.

In a joint statement issued by the four committee co-chairmen, they said:

"The principles for which Mike Bakalis stands and the important social goals he espouses have been instrumental in our decision to put aside our political differences and join hands in offering him the full measure of our support throughout his campaign."

"We pledge that we will each call upon our supporters to extend their assistance — financial and otherwise — to Mike in his important fight for the best interests of the people of Illinois."

Madison board delays hiring

Action on the hiring of a Madison school attorney and treasurer was delayed Tuesday evening at the request of Sam Dymas, president of the School Board.

Dymas is in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Room 339, recuperating after surgery to his leg following an accident while he was umpiring a softball game Sunday in Madison.

A special meeting has been called by Dymas for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 2, to discuss personnel.

The only business transacted at the Tuesday meeting was to reinstate a Madison High School student on probation.

Recital May 5

Sherry Mitchell, 2620 Madison Ave., Granite City, will be presented in her senior recital Friday, May 5, at 5 p.m. in the Lovjoy Library auditorium at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Included in her program of music will be Scarlatti's "Sonata in A Minor" and "Sonata in D Major," Haydn's "Sonata in C Major," and works by Shostakovich, Kabalevsky and Khachaturian.

Miss Mitchell is a student of the piano.

Republicans hope to control state assembly

By AL MANNING

Springfield Bureau

If the Republicans win control of the General Assembly, Gov. Jim Thompson's political image will be enhanced.

Winning a majority of the seats in the legislature may well be more important politically to Thompson than his plurality in the governor's race.

Thompson is favored to defeat Democrat Mike Balaus, but Republicans and Democrats alike think the race will be close.

It will be virtually impossible for the governor to match his record-breaking 1.4 million plurality in his first campaign.

However, Republicans across the nation would take notice if the GOP won control of the legislature in Illinois.

Thompson would undoubtedly get the bulk of the credit nationally, even though Sen. Charles Percy and others in the state are working toward the same goal.

One of the key political factors in this non-presidential election is whether Republicans can regroup. They now have only 12 governors and control only four legislatures in the 50 states.

If Thompson wins re-election and carries a GOP legislature with him, then his chances of being nominated for president would be improved.

Republicans around the country would like nothing better than a presidential candidate who could help them win their own races.

Thompson's task will not be easy, however.

The Democrats currently control the Senate by a 34-25 margin and the House 44-33.

Last year, Republicans targeted eight marginal districts in the Senate now represented by Democrats.

They figured they had to win five of those eight, plus hold all of their own marginal seats.

The primary election offered little in the way of increased optimism. Here's a rundown:

LYNN MARTIN, a state representative, is favored to win the seat in Rockford because incumbent Democrat Vivian Hickey did not seek re-election. Democrats nominated Frank Parrino.

PATRICK POWER, state's attorney of Kankakee County, will offer a strong challenge to incumbent Jerry Joyce. Power received almost three times as many votes in the primary as Joyce did.

ADELINE GEO-KARIS, a state representative from Zion, is expected to give freshman Larry Leonard of Waukegan trouble. The district has two GOP representatives, and she received twice as many votes in the primary as Leonard did.

ALDO DEANGELIS of Olympia Fields defeated Rep. Thomas Miller of South Holland for the GOP nomination in the 10th district. Before the primary, Republicans thought they had an excellent chance of knocking off incumbent Robert Lane of Chicago Heights. They might still do it.

Picking up the fifth- and most crucial seat—gets to be more difficult, though.

MILT HOCKING, mayor of Jacksonville, is threatening incumbent Vince Demuzio of Carlinville. Republicans do have two representatives in this district.

GEORGE WILLIAMS of Marion is presenting a strong challenge to Gene Johns of Marion. Johns won last time with 53 percent of the vote.

WILLIAM DAMMIER of Norridge is running against Robert Egan of Chicago. The district lies partially in the suburbs, and Egan was defeated once before, before coming back to win last time with 51.1 percent of the vote.

Some Republicans also thought incumbent Democrat Richard Clewis of Chicago was vulnerable. He was.

Steven Nash defeated him in the Democratic primary. But it's hard to see how Republican John Peterard can win, since the Democrats outvoted the Republicans in the district in the primary by a 15-1 margin.

Many persons, including the governor, think winning control of the Senate will be easier than winning the House.

The House is much more difficult to analyze because of the cumulative voting system in which four candidates are nominated and three elected in each district.

In addition, there is uncertainty in a few districts because some defeated candidates are talking about creating independent parties and running in the general election.

Last year, the Republicans targeted eight districts where they figured they could win.

They need to pick up six of those eight seats—plus hold all of the ones they won.

Here's a rundown: In the 36th district, Democrat Oral "Jake" Jacobs of East Moline always seems to squeeze in. Timothy Bell of Moline could beat Jacobs if Ben Polk does not run away with all of the GOP vote.

In the 45th district, Republicans might pick up a seat because Dick Luft ran for comptroller rather than seek re-election. Luft might enter as an independent candidate, however.

In the 50th district (Springfield), Republicans are counting on Joseph Ohl to run a strong race. Although most persons figure Dave Robinson is her target, some do not discount the possibility that Doug Kane could be the odd-man out.

In the 9th district, more Republicans votes were cast last time, but they all went to William Mahar of Homewood.

The same thing happened in the 58th district for Ralph Dunn of DuQuoin. If they team up better with their runningmates, the GOP could gain.

In the 59th district in Southern Illinois, some Republicans think Bob Winchester and James Eatherly could team up to defeat William Harris or James Rea.

Another possibility is the 5th district where Jack Williams won the last time by the small margin of any of the representatives.

Republicans had originally thought they could win in the 19th district, but it will be tough because two newcomers are challenging two incumbents.

Obviously, the Republicans have their work cut out for them if they are to pick up six seats in the House.

If they are able to do that, however, the governor will benefit politically as well as governmentally.

Two women hurt in collision

Two women were injured when the eastbound auto of Mrs. Betty Johnson, 45, of 725 Twenty-sixth St., and the southbound car of Herbert Darwin, 67, of 1854 rear Edwardsville Road, collided at 25th Street and Cleveland Boulevard at 6:05 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Johnson's car tipped on its right side on top of Darwin's car hood. Darwin was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way at a stop sign.

Mrs. Johnson was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted for observation with a cut of her scalp which required sutures.

Mildred Sidwell, 55, of 424 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, was a passenger in Darwin's auto, suffered minor injuries, but did not require hospital treatment.

Due to an oversight in budget preparation, the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees found it necessary to trim $42,425 from the town fund budget during a public hearing on the township budgets Monday night.

Trustee Norman Hessler, chairman of the township's finance committee, said the tentative budgets totaling $397,886 were prepared along the basic guidelines of the previous year's budgets, with projected income estimated from last year's figure, updated by some recent information.

However, he said the finance committee in preparing the town fund budget, failed to notice that the rate based on the budget was at its legal maximum of 25-cents per $100 assessed valuation, which would not support as large a budget as the previous fiscal year. The 1977-78 budget was prepared to include a considerable carry-over of funds not spent in the 1976-77 fiscal year.

Therefore, it became necessary to trim more than $40,000 from the town fund budget Monday night to bring it into line with anticipated income.

The town board of health was the victim, as the budget for health programs, including drainage improvements, was trimmed from the posted total of $45,000 to only $4,000, a $41,000 drop. Contingencies also were decreased from $7,500 to $5,000.

Hessler said recent information reaching the finance committee also made it necessary to increase the budgets slightly in three areas of the town fund. Board action Monday night increased the employees' life and hospitalization fund contribution from $2,500 to $3,100 and the budget for the township collector was upped from $1,800 to $2,200.

The appropriation for printing and legal notices was increased from $850 to $1,000.

The town board of health was the victim, as the budget for health programs, including drainage improvements, was trimmed from the posted total of $45,000 to only $4,000, a $41,000 drop. Contingencies also were decreased from $7,500 to $5,000.

Hessler said recent information reaching the finance committee also made it necessary to increase the budgets slightly in three areas of the town fund. Board action Monday night increased the employees' life and hospitalization fund contribution from $2,500 to $3,100 and the budget for the township collector was upped from $1,800 to $2,200.

The appropriation for printing and legal notices was increased from $850 to $1,000.

Elks sponsor youth week program May 3

Elks Lodge 1063 of Granite City will observe Elks National Youth Week on Wednesday, May 3, when students of Granite City High Schools will take over city offices and rule the city for a day. The event is sponsored annually by the Elks Lodge.

Mayor Paul Schuler Monday issued a proclamation setting the week of May 1 as "Youth Week of Granite City" in cooperation with the Elks Lodge program. Elks National Youth Week also will be observed during the same period.

High school youths who will take over the city offices will include Laura Sobolewski (North) as mayor, James Dumont (South) fire chief, Ron Vaughn Langston (North) police chief, Steven Gummer (South) city clerk, Earl Dean Evans (North) city treasurer and Alice Hoffman (South) superintendent of streets.

They will take over the city offices at 10:30 a.m. on May 3. change the anti-recession budget total of $11,000, which is down $6,000 from the $17,000 appropriated last year.

The general assistance budget of $104,300 is $14,800 higher than the $89,440 for assistance in the 1977-78 budget, but Town Clerk Douglas Teeler said the increase will not be reflected in personal property taxes, since state public aid funds are used to pay any charges to the general assistance fund which exceed funds generated by its tax levy of 10-cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Also approved as posted were a $20,000 municipal retirement fund budget, the same budget, down $13,657 from the 1977-78 year.

Among the revenue sharing appropriations are $30,000 for environmental cleanup, $10,000 for an Arlington Heights tornado warning system, $10,000 for drainage and health programs, and $7,500 to help pay for ambulance service.

Trustee W. Lee Adams voted against the ambulance appropriation, noting it would be used to pay ambulance bills which are not paid by the patients using the ambulances from Nameoki Township.

Another $1,750 is for a burglar alarm for the township building.

Other revenue sharing appropriations are, auditing $450, printing and publication $300, State Park street lights $500, and support for Manpower employees $500.

Kiwanians honor past lieutenant governors

Kiwanis Division 34 of the Illinois-Iowa District held a spring lieutenant governors' dinner dance at the Sunset Hills Country Club during the weekend. Division 34 consists of 14 Kiwanian Clubs in cities within the Madison and St. Clair counties area.

Purpose of the event was to raise funds for a nationally-known charity organization, promote Kiwanis International, honor the division's past lieutenant governors, and provide a social setting for the division's clubs.

Robert Karrer of Collinsville was the senior past lieutenant governor among the ten lieutenant governors attending. Lieutenant Governor Michael

Named state association vice president

Herbert E. Milton Jr., Madison County Board member from Granite City District 22, was elected second vice president of the Illinois Association of County Board Members at the 91st annual Spring Conference of the Illinois

Townships of Granite City announced that the event was successful and that a check for over $450 will be forwarded from Division 34 to a charity organization in the near future.

Association of County Officials. Held in Decatur the conference had approximately 500 county officials from throughout Illinois in attendance, including nearly 150 County Board members.

Milton, in his second four-year term as a member of the County Board, was Madison County's representative in discussions held on various bills pending in the Illinois House and Senate which have potential impacts on Illinois counties and townships.

Milton had served as third vice-president of the Association during the past year.

Develop new forms of energy—Lucco

Talk by State Rep. Joe E. Lucco, chairman, the Energy Resources Commission, at an energy seminar in Collinsville April 25.

There are those who do not believe that we have a continuing energy problem and that we must work together to do something about it.

They are comfortable in their homes and they have gasoline for their cars. They have forgotten the energy supply problems caused by the Arab embargo of 1973-74.

They already are forgetting the threat to fuel supplies caused by the record-breaking winters of the past two years, and by the recent coal strike.

The public in general does not concern itself with the flare-ups in the energy shortage picture, once they are over. And as for a continuing long-term energy problem, many people simply refuse to believe that it exists at all.

Yet, believe it or not, within a couple of generations our supply of natural gas will be gone. And, at any moment, half of our oil supply could be cut off because of another oil embargo.

Or, rising prices of gas and oil could more slowly bring us to a halt.

The increased dependence of the United States on foreign oil reflects the alarming rate of deficit in our balance of over-seas payments, which amounted to $7.5 billion in 1977, $29 billion in 1974 and $48 billion in 1977. This trend cannot continue without the collapse of our fiscal system.

On the other hand, there is hope for us if we can find ways to use coal reserves in an environmentally and economically feasible manner and develop alternative energy resources.

In the meantime, we must practice energy conservation seriously.

What is the Illinois Energy Resources Commission doing to make hope a reality?

In the three years since the Illinois General Assembly authorized the IERC, the commission has helped the state adopt an administrative structure toward resolving energy problems.

It developed key energy legislation passed by the General Assembly which places Illinois in the forefront of states doing something about energy.

And it has made a continuing effort to inform the public on the energy situation through public hearings, conferences, publications, and talks such as this one.

The commission has formed study panels to learn the state's energy needs and to recommend ways to meet them. IERC task forces are now developing specific legislation, resolutions and studies.

The energy resources that are alternatives to gas and oil are coal, solar, solid waste and biomass, geo-thermal and wind energy.

First, I want to mention coal—specifically the production of gas from high-sulfur Illinois coal.

Illinois has coal like the Arabs have oil—162 billion tons of high-quality bituminous coal, the largest supply of such coal in the United States.

However, the chief problem with more extensive use of Illinois coal is its high sulfur content, an air pollutant.

Toward overcoming this problem, a $70 million Illinois Coal and Energy Bond Act has been passed by the Illinois General Assembly.

Under the act, the commission is empowered to approve funding requests out of $6 million in coal development funds and $5 million in funds for development of other forms of energy.

As a result of this act, the commission has approved two coal gasification projects.

Coal gasification eliminates the sulfur problem, but the necessary developmental work takes time.

One of the coal gasification projects is a Commonwealth Edison turbine test facility to be built at its Pottsville power station near Pekin, Ill.

The commission has approved $7.2 million. Estimated total cost is $100 million.

The other project is Combustion Engineering's industrial fluidized-bed boiler project to be located at the Great Lakes Naval Station in Illinois.

The commission has approved $750,000, with total program cost estimated at $8,310,000.

Also, the commission expects to receive this year a proposal for state funding assistance to build an Allis-Chalmers $100 million coal gasification facility at either Wood River or DuQuoin, Ill.

Two other site possibilities also are being considered by Allis-Chalmers.

As such projects become realities, we can expect a dramatic increase in the use of Illinois coal and increased prosperity and employment in the state.

In the meantime, there is a continuing struggle being waged in Illinois toward balancing the need to use Illinois coal without undue air pollution.

As an example of this struggle, the governor has just appointed several members of the IERC, including myself, to a special commission.

It has, as a chief immediate responsibility, investigation of a decision by Commonwealth Edison to cease burning Illinois responsibility, investigation of a near Peka.

The Commonwealth Edison decision is based on requirements of the new Federal Clean Air Act amendments as passed by Congress in 1977.

The Pottsville plant uses 20 percent of the Illinois coal used by Illinois utilities.

The Illinois Energy Resources Commission first drew public attention about the adverse economic effects of the Pottsville decision to the state at its March 22 meeting in Springfield.

As with use of Illinois coal, solar energy holds great promise but it will take time before we fully exploit the energy possibilities of the sun.

The production of solar energy is a present reality as well as a future responsibility.

In Illinois, we have several large manufacturers now producing solar energy systems.

Illinois has become a leader in the solar energy field by virtue of passage of Senate Bill 944, the first comprehensive solar energy legislation in the United States, and House Bill 1278, which amended the Coal Development Bond Act to include $5 million for solar energy and other research and development projects.

Both bills were sponsored by commission members, and were developed with commission assistance and support.

At the commission's request, the governor has proclaimed May 3 as Illinois "Sun Day", and May 1 through May 7 as Illinois "Sun Week".

During this period, the public in Illinois, as well as nationally, will celebrate the great strides being taken in solar energy.

The other forms of alternative energy available in Illinois, such as nuclear energy, the wind, and solid waste and biomass, also hold forth both promise and problems in regard to their extensive use.

Many persons are fearful of increased use of nuclear power.

The technology has not been fully developed commercially for use of modern wind mills, which might power entire towns.

There are economic, as well as social, factors in use of solid wastes as fuel.

Uses of the biomass—such as "gasohol", a blend of agriculturally-derived alcohol with gasoline—still need more research.

But such new forms of energy will be developed!

We Americans know that the miracles of technology just do not happen. And this is what we must do toward meeting our energy needs: We have to make things happen.

Being an optimist, I feel confident that we will.

Return stolen car wheel rims

Three men were stopped by police at noon Monday in connection with the theft of 30 to 35 wheel rims from the rear of Ernie's service station, 24th Street and Washington Avenue, Sunday, and admitted taking the rims.

The victim decided not to prosecute if the wheels were returned and the three men complied. The driver was charged with not having a valid registration for his car and was released after posting his driver's license as bond.

One passenger was held for questioning by detectives and was released later Monday afternoon, only to be among those arrested Tuesday morning on a drug warrant from the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement of the "police" stemming from an earlier drug investigation.

A witness saw m. putting the wheels from the service station into a red car and gave police a description of the car which led to it being stopped Monday at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues.

Two Ohio state possibilities also are being considered by Allis-Chalmers.

4 lanes for Route 159

Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neil announced Tuesday that the Illinois Department of Transportation will open bids on Tuesday, May 16, for major reconstruction of Illinois 159 between Fairview Heights and Swansea.

The planned 3.6-mile improvement between U.S. 50 and Illinois 161 will cost an estimated $5.6 million. The existing two-lane roadway will be widened and upgraded to a four-lane highway. The project will also include a median to aid motorists in making left turns.

"The existing two-lane has become inadequate for the heavy traffic volume," O'Neil said. "The construction of this new route will greatly relieve congestion as well as improve safety."

Besides the roadway construction, the project will include drainage, curbs and gutters, traffic signals and landscaping. Two lanes will remain open to traffic at all times while the work proceeds.

Assuming receipt of a favorable bid, the project will be awarded to a contractor three or four weeks after the bid deadline. Work will begin shortly after the contract award, and completion is expected within two years.

Rites held for Mrs. Kohlmeier

Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 12, at St. John's United Church of Christ, Wood River, for Mrs. Eleanor K. (Huebner) Kohlmeier, 72, of 141 E. Jennings, Wood River.

She died April 9 at the Wood River Township Hospital, where she had been a patient since March 17, after a fall in her home.

Born in Oldenberg, Chouteau Township, she resided in the area almost all of her life. She was confirmed at St. John's United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road, by the late Rev. Carl Dexheimer. At the time of her death she was one of the few remaining members of the Wood River church.

She was married to Leonard W. Kohlmeier on April 22, 1926, at the home of her parents, the late George and Christine Huebner in Oldenberg, a community near Hartford.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, include two daughters, Eleanor Kohlmeier of Wood River and Mrs. David (Shelley) Kibler of East Alton, formerly of Granite City; one grandchild, a sister, Mrs. Robert (Caroline) Kohlmeier of Edwardsville and a brother, John Huebner of Oldenburg, Ind. Rev. Victor Frohne officiated at the funeral services, and burial was in Wanda Cemetery, South Roxana.

GERALD W. DORTCH

Honored at dental school

Gerald W. Dortch, Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City and a senior at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Dental Medicine has been honored by the American College of Dentists. Dortch was presented the "Award of Merit" at the College of Dentists' annual luncheon meeting in Chicago last week. The award is given in recognition of meritorious service to SIU School of Dental Medicine and to the profession of dentistry. Dortch has been president of the SDM student body for two years and is active in many school committees and functions.

He also was the recipient of the American Student Dental Association's Preventive Dentistry award. Dortch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orman Dortch, 2908 Warren Ave. His wife, Kathy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kula, 2443 Delmar Ave. Dortch after graduation will live and practice in Belleville.

Craft plans include fair and classes

Registration for SIUE workshops in photography, cartooning, weaving, ceramics and jewelry making is under way. The classes, which begin next week, are being offered by the craft shop. The shop (692-2178) is located on the main floor of the University Center. Most workshops run from three to four weeks.

SIUE students, faculty, staff and members of the community who would like to learn a craft are being encouraged to participate. Workshops, supply fees and times for classes include:

Cartooning, $6 — Mondays and Tuesdays, 7 until 9 p.m.
Beginning drawing, $5 — Tuesdays, 1 until 4 p.m.
Knitting and crocheting, $7 — Wednesdays, 6:30 until 9:30 p.m.
Left-hander's crochet $7 — Tuesdays, 6 to 9 p.m.
Fabric design, $8 — Wednesdays, 3:30 until 6:30 p.m.
Ratik and tie dying, $6 — Wednesdays, 6 until 9 p.m.
Macrame, $5 — Thursdays, 6:30 until 9:30 p.m.
Frame loom weaving, $10 — Saturdays, 9 a.m. until noon.

Sewer contract signing to be rescheduled

Yesterday's planned signing of a contract to construct sanitary sewers for Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships was postponed so the contractors and attorney for the Madison County special sewer committee can work out minor changes in the language.

Members of the sewer committee and officials of the G. H. Sternberg and S. M. Wilson construction firms were to have signed the construction contract at 3 p.m. yesterday, but minor problems developed which the committee hopes to resolve tomorrow or early next week.

S. M. Wilson was out of town yesterday and unavailable for the signing and there was a question whether bonding of officials would be available to execute a $15 million performance bond when the contract was signed.

There also were some questions on a portion of the contract dealing with financial responsibility should the project be delayed while the remaining 75 easements are obtained.

Representatives of the committee and the contractors met at 3 p.m. yesterday and reached agreement on the portions of the contract in question, but the committee referred the amended contract to its attorney, Harry Hartman, for a final review and for his recommendations on it.

Hartman is expected to render his opinion on the contract this afternoon or tomorrow and a day and time for the contract signing will then be announced. Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the sewer committee, said.

Unidentified body found near Rt. 203

Illinois State Police investigators are attempting to determine the cause of death and the identity of a man whose body was found in a field north of Interstate 70 and west of Route 203 and St. Louis International Raceway at 2:05 p.m. Wednesday.

The partially-clad man had been dead about three to four days, it has been estimated. An autopsy has been conducted, but authorities said it will be several days before results are available.

The man was white and about 55 to 60 years old, they noted. He was clad only in a white tee shirt and a pair of boxer shorts, but other clothing was found near the body including a red man's shirt, light green slacks and two green long-sleeved sweatshirts.

There were several minor abrasions on the body, but nothing which could have caused the man's death, investigators said. Anyone having information which could be of police in identifying the man is being requested to call the Illinois State Police, District 11, at 345-1212.

PAST MASTER DAY of Granite City Masonic Lodge 877, attracted about 160 persons, Master Masons and their wives, to Masonic Temple, 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard. The event was the 66th annual Past Master Day celebrated by the lodge with a dinner and ceremony. Past masters at the dinner were introduced.

'Hallelujah Chorus' in Swahili—safari among wild animals, 7-foot-tall Masai

By ALFREDE E. KRUMSEK
At the Traversers Abroad April meeting Monday, Mrs. Della Aulabaugh discussed her recent three-week trip across equatorial Africa from Zaire to the Atlantic to Kenya on the Indian Ocean. The journey was under the auspices of a group of church people.

The first half of the trip dealt primarily with the work of Christian missionaries in Zaire, the former Belgian Congo—now a republic in name but regarded as a dictatorship.

In visiting many churches, mission schools and hospitals, Mrs. Aulabaugh was repeatedly told that the aim was not to teach sectarianism or even theology, but the simple principles of Christianity.

Accordingly, there is no friction between Catholics, Baptists, Presbyterians and Methodists, but instead remarkable cooperation, she commented. In one church, the tour group heard a native choir of 50 voices sing Handel's "Messiah" Hallelujah Chorus in Swahili.

This was followed by a sermon in Swahili. The natives, mostly dressed in white, were all scrupulously clean, an African characteristic, she related.

Invited to dinner at the choir leader's house after the services, the group observed that the small children did not sit at the table with the adults, although the older boys and girls did.

In hospitals maintained by the missionaries, the patients receive medication and tender care, but not food. On all four sides of each hospital was a veranda on which the patients received food from their relatives.

The natives are not proficient farmers and raise no vegetables, but they gather various edible plants from the wild. The missionaries strive hard to improve sanitation and methods of farming, Mrs. Aulabaugh said.

She saw no evidence of racial antagonism, but rather a high degree of love and respect.

The second half of the trip was a safari in Kenya, the home of the slender, fine-featured Masai, many of whom are seven feet tall.

In Kenya there is an oriental flavor. It is believed that Asiatic people have been migrating there for centuries.

Swahili, the lingua franca of this area, has African origins with Arabic overtones, it was noted. There are many immigrants from India who maintain their own languages and customs.

Throughout the trip, Mrs. Aulabaugh made it a point to visit open air markets, where the natives gather from many miles around to sell food products and various handicrafts. She found this is the best way to study the natives' character and way of life.

The famous Tree Tops Hotel is so called because the entire building is above ground and its foundation rests on the trunks of tall trees. This is for protection from wild animals, which wander freely in the game preserve, the most persistent intruders being the baboons.

There and on the long bus journey to the coast were many opportunities for photographing wild animals from close range: water buffalo, rhinos, hippopotami, rabbits, gazelles, zebras, flamingos, elephants, cheetahs and lions with their young.

Guides carry guns which they are authorized to use in case of necessary self-defense.

There are some gigantic ant hills, as tall as the trees. In addition, there are many beautiful native flowers, especially bougainvillea, the Travelers were told.

Last of all, Mrs. Aulabaugh showed some photographs of Mt. Kilimanjaro and its environs across the Kenya border in Tanganyika, made famous by novelist Ernest Hemingway.

Deer applications available here

Applications for deer tag permits for the State of Illinois are now available upon request at Earl's Discount Store, 18th Street and Cleveland Boulevard in Granite City.

Normally, hunters would have to write the state department of conservation to obtain the application. A spokesman for Earl's said that they made a call to Springfield to see if it would be possible for the store to handle the applications since the store is a large outlet for sporting goods in the area. Arrangements were made and now hunters can get the proper forms locally.

Hunting season this year for firearms will be from Nov. 17 through 19 and again from Dec. 8 to 10. The season for hunters using bow and arrows is divided into three periods: Oct. 1 to Nov. 16; Nov. 20 to Dec. 7 and Dec. 11 through 31.

The applications for the tag permits are due from May 1 through 12 with a random drawing for the allotted number of tags this year to be held on May 17.

A limited number of applications for both firearms and archery tags are available at the local store.

Tennis lights to be turned on Monday

The lights at the Wilson Park Tennis Courts in Granite City will be turned on each evening beginning Monday, May 1 for the summer season.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. Tennis Courts may be reserved Monday through Friday from 5 until 10 p.m.
2. Reservations can be made after 4:45 p.m. for that evening only and in person.
3. Court time for these making reservations will be limited to one hour.
4. Players are limited to one reservation per day.
5. Reservations can only be made at court side.
6. Those reserving courts must be residents of the Granite City Park District with identification cards issued by the Park District.
7. Reservations may be made by working high school students over 16 years of age through adults.
8. All persons using the Wilson Park Courts must wear tennis shoes.

The Park District also has a tennis court at Stearns Park located at Amos and Johnson Roads. Reservations are required, but court time is limited to one hour.

TWO SUSPECTS HELD

Venice police, assisted by Madison officials, stopped a late model Ford Granada at 11:50 p.m. Wednesday in the 500 block of Redwood in St. Louis, and arrested two youths, ages 17 and 20, after learning the car had been stolen from East St. Louis on Friday, April 21.

CYCLIST DISCHARGED

Michael Whitford, 24, of 2098 Elmwood St., was released this week from St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had been a patient since being involved in a motorcycle accident April 16 at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue. His motorcycle went out of control and fell when he tried to stop for a car in front of him. A previous report that he struck the rear of the car was in error.

Multi-year car license renewal forms in July

The first multi-year license plate system adopted in Illinois history will officially start with the mailing of registration renewal applications this July, Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon announced today.

Illinois will be the first state to institute a multi-year, multi-year registration system at the same time, he said. Passenger cars, motorcycles and mopeds are the vehicles included.

Staggered registration will go into effect in 1979, along with the multi-year plates.

Preprint applications, which must be used to purchase a 1979 plate, will include detailed information on the registration renewal system and will be affixed to the rear plate.

Dixon also pointed out that the sticker will be reflectorized and — once it has been attached to the plate — it cannot be removed without destroying it.

"In addition to saving $21 million over the five-year period, the multi-year plan will be a major help to law enforcement agencies."

"Our computer file will be far more accurate and up-to-date than the annual plate procedure," Dixon emphasized.

The 1979 aluminum plate will retain the legends "Illinois" and "Land of Lincoln" as part of the license plate sheeting. It will have blue digits and letters on a white background.

No registration renewal stickers will be issued during the cold months of December, January and February, to ease the strain on the car was in error.

Alton, Bethalto win MadCo Meets

GRANITE CITY — The Alton Red Birds came away with the team trophy here Tuesday in the Madison County large school boys' track meet. Collinsville won the girls' title. Granite City North was second in the boys' division.

In the small school meet at Wood River, Bethalto won the team championship in the boys' division followed by Madison.

THE FINAL TEAM STANDINGS for the boys' large school were Alton 89, North 60, Edwardsville and Granite City South 49 and Collinsville 24. The girls' points were Collinsville, 71, Edwardsville 59, Alton 48, North 42, and South 31.

In the boys' small school meet, it was Bethalto 66, Madison 56, Triad 51, Wood River 49, Highland 20, Roxana 14. In the girls' meet it was Highland 78, Madison 50, Triad 49, Wood River 44 and St. Paul 22.

In the boys' large school meet, Don Cooke of North won the 100-yard dash in :10.5. South's Cliff Moran was fourth in :10.8. Cooke also won the 220 in :24.3. His teammate, Buchanan, was third in :24.4.

South's Bert Houston was the narrow winner in the 880 over North's Aaron Hickman and Glenn Edwards. Houston's time was 2:03.8. Hickman had the same time, but was edged at the wire. Edwards ran it in 2:03.9.

NORTH'S Mike Baker won both the mile and two-mile runs. He was followed in second in the mile by South James DuMont.

North's Greg Stout was third. South's Cliff Moran won the pole vault with a leap of 13 feet, 10 inches. John Kefalas of North was second. Adams of South was fourth.

The Madison two-mile relay team of Ray Price, Alvin Baker to ISU; see page 21

Bankhead, Tony Mayes and Cecil Cross won that event in the small school boys' meet. The Trojans' 440-yard relay team of Collins, Heard, Davenport and White won that event in :46.6.

MADISON'S Tim Colston continued his domination of the jumping events by winning both the long jump and the triple jump. He won the long jump with a distance of 20 feet, 2 1/2 inches. His distance in the triple jump was 40 feet, 4 1/2 inches.

EARNEST DAVENPORT of Madison set a new meet record for the 440-yard run with his time of :30.3. The mile relay team of Madison (Colston, Heard, Jackson, Davenport) won that event with a time of :36.0.

In the girls' large school meet, Dawn Ford of Granite City North won the long jump with a distance of 18 feet, 10 1/2 inches. South's Chris Boyd was second at 15 feet, four inches.

BOYD finished third in the 440-yard run. Bates of North was third in the 100-yard dash and Voutoupoul of North was fourth in the same event.

Cheryl McMan of North was third in the mile run with a time of 6:22.7. North's mile relay team placed second in that event in a time of 4:33.8.

In the girls' small school division, the Madison 440-yard relay team won that event in a time of :46.6.

DARLENE REED of Madison was the winner in the shot put with a distance of 34 feet, 11 1/2 inches. Veronica Williams of North was the winner of the two-mile run. The Trojans' 880-yard medley team won that event, as did their 440-yard relay squad.

The next action for the Quad-Cities boys' teams will be this Saturday in the Granite City South Track and Field Classic.

and a hot pitcher in Alton Tuesday.

Alton Marquette's Tim Harrahod won his first game on the mound as a high school hurler and it was one to remember. He tossed a no-hitter at the Red Devils in a game called after five innings because of the 10-run rule.

The Marquette ace allowed only three Venice players to reach base, all on walks. He struck out nine and there wasn't a single ball hit to the Marquette outfield.

Marquette scored its runs on only seven hits.

EAST ST. LOUIS 12, MADISON 4

Madison grabbed an early 3-0 lead at home against East St. Louis Tuesday, on the strength of RB's by Ed Burns.

But that was to be "all she wrote" for the Trojans. East St. Louis didn't begin scoring until the fourth inning, but once they did, they did it in a big way.

Madison falls to Lincoln, New Athens clubs Warriors

The Madison High baseball team lost a slugfest at home yesterday to East St. Louis Lincoln, 16-10.

Madison jumped out on top 3-2 after the first inning, but fell behind 4-3 after the third.

The two big innings for Lincoln's Tigers were the fourth and the seventh. They tallied five runs in the fourth and nine in the seventh.

But the big story of the game was errors. Madison errors, to be exact. The Trojans committed 15 of them, overshadowing a string pitching performance by Madison's Clinton Sensibaugh, who allowed the Tigers only eight hits. Madison had nine. A total of 12 unearned runs were scored by Lincoln.

Going into the final inning, the score was 9-5. But Lincoln's nine runs and five by the Trojans accounted for the final score.

Joe Piechocki and Juan Gardner led the way for Madison, now 2-10. Piechocki had two hits and one RBI. Gardner had two hits and two RBIs. Robert Niehaus also had two hits.

NEW ATHENS 7, SOUTH 2

"We threw an array of pitches at them (New Athens)," commented South's pitching coach John Modica. The Warriors were defeated last Tuesday by the team rated second in the area, New Athens, by a score of 7-2. South was also out-hit 11-7 as its record dropped to 9-4-1.

The "array" was made up of five pitchers. In order of appearance: Tim Kirksey, Al Yount, Mark Linhart, Rick Klobe, and Mike DeGonia. Klobe is the only southpaw on the Warrior squad and Tuesday was the first game that he threw in. Jeff Treiter was designated hitter for all five pitchers.

New Athens scored two runs in the first inning. John Pitchford walked and stole second. Mike Wirth, who was three for four for the night with one double, one triple, and one homer, tripled to score Pitchford. Ray Pout doubled to center. Wirth, 2, scored.

South went scoreless throughout the first two innings, as the Jackets added another run in the second frame. Scott Thies singled and crossed the white hexagon shaped plate when Pitchford tripped.

Wirth made the score 4-0 when he hit a 375 foot home run to right center to lead off the third inning. Danny Schaus took the honors of getting the first hit and the first run of the game for the Warriors. Schaus singled to his homestead, left field, and Jeff Parker tripled him in making it 4-1.

This led things off for New Athens with a double in the top of the fourth. Mark Amann put Thies of third by hitting up the hole (between short stop and third base). Dennis Kreyer hit to the same hole and Thies scored. Amann scored on an error that made the score 6-1.

The final run came in the top of the seventh frame. Wirth tripled to center field, Bob Cockrell singled to the same territory to score Wirth.

"We got beat by a super team," stated Conrad "Babe" Champion, coach of the South nine. "We've got a lot of games this weekend—that's what it is all about."

MARQUETTE 16, VENICE 9

Coach Ken Perkins' Venice squad fell victim to a hot team

and a hot pitcher in Alton Tuesday.

Alton Marquette's Tim Harrahod won his first game on the mound as a high school hurler and it was one to remember. He tossed a no-hitter at the Red Devils in a game called after five innings because of the 10-run rule.

South Classic Saturday

GRANITE CITY - The annual Granite City South Track and Field Classic will be held this Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. with 22 teams participating.

This marks the first year that teams will be divided into large and small school divisions.

Participating in the small school group will be Madison, Lebanon, St. Paul-Highland, Triad and Herculaneum of Missouri.

Schools with teams in the large school bracket are Centralia, Fox High of Arnold, Mo., Mt. Vernon, Granite City North and South, Hazelwood East of Missouri, Edwardsville, Northwest of House Springs, Mo., McCluer North, Mo., Cahokia, Riverview Gardens, Mo.,

Belleville East and West, Collinsville, Ritenour, Mo., Lindbergh, Mo., and Parkway West, Mo.

The Unit 10 (Collinsville) School Board voted in a meeting here Tuesday to withdraw from the league. The vote was 4-3.

The board also told Sp. of Schools John Renfro to write the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) protesting its failure to reprimand East St. Louis High for incidents which occurred during and after the Collinsville Class AA Regional basketball tournament last March.

Southwestern conference rules state that any school dropping out of the conference must honor contracts it has made for the following year. So, apparently, Collinsville will drop out following the 1978-79 school year.

The Collinsville withdrawal

Collinsville out of SWC

East St. Louis Coach Coy Nunn labeled game officials as racists after his team lost to Collinsville. After the remarks, an anonymous phone caller threatened Collinsville Coach Vergil Fletcher's life. Games for the East St. Louis Section were moved to Alton.

Southwestern conference rules state that any school dropping out of the conference must honor contracts it has made for the following year. So, apparently, Collinsville will drop out following the 1978-79 school year.

The Collinsville withdrawal

leaves the Southwestern Conference with six schools, Edwardsville, East St. Louis, Alton, Cahokia and Belleville East and West.

Granite City High School, led by Andy Phillip's 15 points took the 1940 IHSA state basketball championship with a 24-22 victory over Herrin in old Huff Gym. The cause of the University of Illinois, Phillip went on to start at Illinois and became the hub of the famed "Whiz Kids."

Johnson qualifies for U.S. championships

Judy Johnson of Alton, a freshman at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has qualified for the United States Gymnastics Federation's Elite Championships to be held in Long Island, N.Y., this May.

Competing as a member of the Mid-Illinois Jets Club of Alton, Ms. Johnson finished seventh in the all-around event this past weekend (Thursday, Friday and Saturday) at Dayton, O. in the third annual National USGF Elite qualifying meet.

Thirty gymnasts from all areas of the United States had earned the right to compete in the Dayton trials through a series of previous competitions.

The top 12 gymnasts from each of the three national qualifying competitions advanced to the championships in Long Island. Ms. Johnson was the leader of the 12.

In addition to her all-around honors for her score of 72.55 and a berth in the national championships, Ms. Johnson also qualified for the finals in three of the four events. She finished third on vault, seventh on uneven bars, seventh on balance beam, and barely missed the finals in floor exercise by 0.5 points.

The Elite is the highest level of gymnastic competition in the U.S., according to Larry Moehn, an SIUE physical education instructor and Ms. Johnson's coach.

The Elite comes after the USGF Class III (beginner), Class II (intermediate), and Class I (advanced). An Elite gymnast must have a better than 9.0 average (72 all around) in eight extremely difficult compulsory and optional routines," Moehn explained.

He added: "The 1978-79 competitive U.S. national and World Games teams will be determined in the Long Island meets."

Johnson is the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Alton.

Baker to run for Illinois State

But it hasn't come easy for the North distance star

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — Granite City North's distance-running star, Mike Baker, has signed a national letter of intent to attend Illinois State University next fall and compete on the school's cross country and track teams.

Baker, who has been an area track fan for four years, said the reason he picked Illinois State is two-fold. "I'm getting a full-ride (all expenses paid) and I really liked Coach Coughlin at ISU (ISU cross country coach John)," said Baker. "I visited some other schools, but I liked ISU the best."

AMONG the other schools which expressed an interest in Baker were Eastern Illinois and Northern Illinois Universities. He also received inquiries from junior colleges in California and Michigan.

Baker hasn't had an easy road to follow, though. He started running seriously in the eighth grade while a student at Grigsby Junior High in Granite City.

"I HAD HIM when he was in the seventh grade at Grigsby," said North cross country coach Pete Robinson. "But I really didn't think then that he was anything special as far as running was concerned."

But the summer before his freshman year, he ran a lot of miles and got in very good condition. That was the turning point of his career as a runner, I think."

Baker, who plans to major in graphic arts at Illinois State, admits he likes cross country better than track. "I think the longer the distance, the better I am," he said. "In fact, in track I even like the two-mile better than the mile."

BAKER said he plans to run between 10 to 15 miles a day this summer in preparation for the fall season at ISU. "It all depends on what Coach Coughlin wants me to do."

Baker said he feels the competition in this area might be a drawback to his running times. "Besides the other guys, there aren't that many strong distance runners around, and I don't have to push myself hard to win a race. It's hard to get my times down that way."

BUT OH, when the "other guys" and Baker get together, as they will this Saturday in the South Track Classic, what a race.

The "other two" are Bob Weilmuenster of Belleville West and Mark Cappelletti of St. Paul Highland.

THE THREE have had some memorable duels through the years. Earlier this year, at the Mineral Area Meet, Weilmuenster beat Baker in the mile. But the two are about even in their meetings through the years. Cappelletti has only beaten Baker once, that time coming in last year's Edwardsville Invitational.

North track coach Harry Lang said there are two things about Baker that make him such an attractive prospect for college coaches. "He's coachable and he's very dedicated runner," said Lang.

"I think those two traits supercede the natural talent he's got."

"IF YOU take a super-talented athlete who's not coachable, he won't be worth a thing to his team."

Baker said that sometimes it's hard to get motivated. "I've had to motivate myself, mostly," he said. "Sometimes when I get up in the morning and don't feel like getting out and running a few miles, I know I have to because if you miss a day, it's just that much harder the next time."

BAKER has had another problem to overcome as far as his conditioning is concerned. He is susceptible to hayfever and bronchial infections, which make it hard on a distance runner to breathe. "That's hurt him in some of his races," said Robinson. "We've been hoping for some really warm weather for him to run in so that he might get his time up, but so far, we haven't had very much."

LANG said that Baker hasn't let his success go to his head. "When he got 14th in the state cross country meet last fall, he knew he'd be highly-sought by colleges. The top 15 usually are," he said. "But Mike hasn't let it go to his head."

"You know, he's not the only reason we have a track meet, but he's very much team-oriented. He's one of the most popular kids in school."

One member of the North track team who knows quite well Baker's talent is Greg Stout.

"STOUT has been running second-fiddle to Mike for four years," said Lang. "He's a very fine distance runner in his own right. But he usually finishes second right behind Baker."

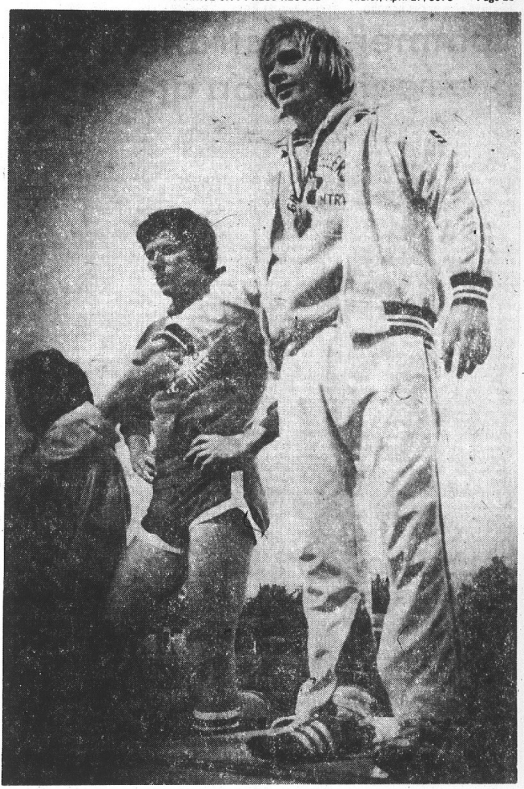

"But I don't think it bothers Greg too much," he added. "They're good friends. But at just about any other school in the area Greg would be the number one distance runner and probably get more of the recognition he deserves."

BAKER said he might enter a marathon race somewhere this summer, if the time is right and he can find one he'd like to run in. "I've never run in a marathon," he said of the grueling 20-mile plus sport. "I'd just kind of like to see if I can do it."

Baker said he has set goals for himself in the mile and two-mile runs. "I'd like to get under 9:20 in the two-mile and 4:20 in the mile."

Baker's best time in the mile is 4:26 and 9:20 in the two-mile. IF THE WEATHER this Saturday is warm, the time could be right for a high school version of the "dream mile" with Baker, Cappelletti and Weilmuenster.

ILLINOIS STATE-BOUND Mike Baker receives his first-place medal after winning the mile-run Tuesday in the Madison County Meet. The North distance-running standout has signed a national letter of intent to run for Illinois State next year.

Regional baseball pairings out

BLOOMINGTON — Competition in the first-ever Monday High School Association (IHSA) two-class Boys State Baseball Tournament series will get under way with regional level games Tuesday, May 16, at 22 Class A and 14 Class AA sites, according to pairings announced today.

In the Thursday, May 18 quarterfinals, Edwardsville hosts Jerseyville, Wood River hosts Bethalto, North plays at home against Roxana and South travels to Alton. Each game is set to begin at 4 p.m.

THE WINNER of the first two games face each other at South in the first Saturday, May 20 semifinal game. The second semifinal will follow immediately after. The championship will be played Monday.

Madison will face St. Henry Prep of Belleville in the final game of the Freeburg Regional on Tuesday, May 16. All of the other quarterfinal games will be on Thursday, May 18. The championship game will be played Monday, May 22.

There will be a total of 33 Class A Regionals (for schools with enrollments of 750 or less) and 28 Class AA Regionals (for schools with enrollments of 751 or more) conducted between May 16 and May 22. A total of 569 downstate, suburban and non-Chicago Public League schools entered the series, of which 309 will vie for the Class A crown and 250 will battle for the Class AA title. The winner of the Chicago Public League qualifying tournament advances to the Class AA State Final.

Semifinal doubleheaders at all regionals are scheduled to be played Saturday, May 20 at the site of the school designated to be the Regional host. The championship games are set for Monday, May 22. Regional winners advance to correlated sectionals, scheduled to be played May 27 and May 29.

Games in the regionals prior to the semifinal round will be played at the site of one of the two teams competing in the game. The site may be shifted if both of the competing schools agree to the shift. Pairings for the regionals were based on ratings of the teams entered in the respective regionals conducted at a meeting of coaches April 18.

The 1978 Class A State Final Tournament will be conducted June 6-7 on Robin Roberts Field at Langhior Park in Springfield. Griffin High School will host the tournament. The 1978 Class AA State Final Tournament will be conducted June 8-9 at Meinen Field in Peoria. Manual High School will host the tournament.

In both state final tournaments, four quarterfinal round games involving the sectional champions will be played on the first day, with opening game set for 9:30 a.m. Semifinal games will be played the second day, with the first scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m. The championship game will be played beginning at 7:30 p.m. on the second night.

Fitzhugh to retire

BLOOMINGTON — Harry Fitzhugh, who has been the executive secretary of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) for the past 10 years, has announced his retirement, effective June 30.

Fitzhugh's letter of resignation was accepted by the Board of Directors at its Monday (April 24) meeting.

Fitzhugh was named executive secretary in February of 1968, succeeding the late Albert Willis. During the 10 years of his holding the office, the IHSA has undergone many changes, including the formation of the state football playoffs, the dividing of the state basketball, cross country and baseball playoffs into Class A (baseball enrollment or less) and AA (751 enrollment or more), the start of the state soccer championships and the beginning of state championship series in girls' sports.

South girls lose to Wood River

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South girls' softball team was bombed here last night by Wood River, 20-0, but South coach Barbara Leach isn't singing the blues today.

"We made a lot of fundamental errors," she said. "But that all comes with a learning experience. Our pitching isn't as strong as we'd like, but it'll come."

"Tina Sedabres did what I told her to do," said Leach about yesterday's Warriorette pitcher. "I told her not to walk anybody. If I looked like she might, to just let her hit it and hope the outfield does its job. It didn't."

South's next game is set for next Thursday, May 4 on Diamond number 8 in Wilson Park.

Summer registration, fall pre-registration at college

Summer registration, plus pre-registration for fall 1978 classes at Belleville Area College, has begun.

Students may register for either or both summer and fall classes any time between now and May 15, and again between May 22 and June 1.

Summer classes begin June 5. Students who register prior to May 15 may be billed for their tuition and fees. But those who register May 22 or after must pay at the time of registration for summer classes.

Tuition for summer classes is $11 per semester hour.

A newly approved tuition increase — to $13 per semester hour — will not go into effect until the fall semester.

Summer schedules and tentative fall schedules have been mailed to presently enrolled students.

Students who have been previously enrolled in credit courses at the college may register for summer and fall classes by telephone, at 235-7800.

Complete fall schedules, containing courses offered on the main campus and in all satellite centers, will be mailed to all residents of District 522 (Belleville Area College's 2,000-square-mile district) in mid-July.

For the first time, part-time credit students will be permitted to enroll via telephone. Telephone registration information will be included with the mass-mailed schedule.

As noted, the college will mail its complete schedule of classes to all homes in District 522 for the first time this year. Prior scheduled mailings have included only students then enrolled at the college.

According to the Office of Public Information, the mailing will go to slightly more than 100,000 homes and will include all classes to be offered by the college — both on the main campus at 2600 Nameoki Road and in the more than 20 extension centers operated primarily in cooperation with the district's high schools.

Doris Slocum, director of public information at BAC, said individual extension centers will be listed in one location in the flyer, so that residents of each community will be able to locate readily the credit and "general studies" (not for transfer) classes offered in that community.

In discussing the effort, Mrs. Slocum said, "The most widely distributed newspaper in the district reaches 36,000 homes. This means that it is virtually impossible to notify our 350,000 constituents of our total course offerings by anything other than direct mail."

"We feel that we have an obligation to all of the people in our district to inform them of what their community college has for them."

The flyers would be mailed bulk rate. She estimates that 14 new full-time students per year attending the college as a result of the flyer would cover the additional mailing and labeling costs incurred by the effort.

A redesign of the schedule flyer enabled the college to print it at no more cost than in previous semesters.

The flyers are expected to be delivered to the homes in July, at least three weeks prior to the Aug. 19 beginning of fall classes.

2 women hurt

Two women were injured when their autos collided at 25th Street and Madison Avenue at 3:10 p.m. Tuesday. The northbound auto of Ina Revelle, 23, of 3710 Kirkpatrick Homes, was turning left onto 25th Street when it and the southbound auto of Kathy A. Reeves, 24, of 2454 Missouri Ave., collided. Mrs. Revelle said a southbound truck stopped in the inside lane for a left turn blocked her vision of the oncoming auto. She was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for a two-inch cut to her head and injuries to her right upper arm and shoulder. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Mrs. Reeves was taken by police to the hospital where she was treated for abrasions to her right leg and left elbow and injuries to her right knee and left thigh. She also was released after X-rays.

Acres of Art Sunday

The 17th annual Acres of Art show will be held Sunday from 12:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. in the Memorial Gym at South High School.

This year's event will feature, in addition to the art work, a 300-participant "Gym-Jam" from 1 p.m. until 2 p.m. by elementary physical education students under the direction of Mrs. Judy Collins.

Several thousand pieces of art of all types by students from kindergarten through the 12th grade will be on display inside the gym.

The Granite City High School South band directed by Terry Waffler will perform, in addition to North vocal students directed by Mrs. Gail Mueller.

The event is being coordinated by Eugene L. Alassi, consultant for Granite City schools.

There is no charge for admission to the art show and the public is welcome, according to Alassi.

Nameoki tax rates announced

The Madison County clerk's office has released the tax levies and rates for Nameoki Township for this year's tax collection, the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees was informed Monday night.

The rates are determined by comparing each levy (the amount needed to raise money for taxation to support the last fiscal year's budgets) to the latest assessed valuation total in the township.

County Clerk Evelyn Howles announced an assessed valuation of $47,915,524 for Nameoki Township.

A tax rate of 25-cents per $100 assessed valuation (the legal maximum) has been set for the general town fund to support a levy of 169.066. For poor relief (general assistance), the maximum rate of 10-cents supports a levy of $54.400.

The municipal retirement fund rate of 4.2 cents is expected to raise $20,000, and the total levy of $243,406 in the town funds yields a rate of 39.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The general road fund rate, which remains at its maximum of 16.5 cents, supports a levy of $139,250 and a special hard road fund rate set by the voters at 15.1 cents will generate about $80,000. The rate for municipal retirement is 2.6 cents, supporting a $12,000 levy.

Faces 3 charges after accident

Ralph Bailey Jr., 42, of 2246 Lynch Ave., was charged with driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident and driving while his license was revoked after his auto allegedly was involved in an accident in the 2400 block of Edison Avenue at 9:20 p.m. Tuesday.

It was alleged his auto struck the parked car of Mildred Grobelnick, 2339a Edison Ave., pushing it into the parked car of Scott Daniel, 2441 Edison Ave. When police arrived, the two vehicles were driving from the scene, allegedly it was the car which struck the parked vehicle.

Police stopped the car on 25th Street near Edison Avenue and arrested the driver. His attorney contacted Circuit Judge A. A. Matsonis who ordered Bailey released on a notice to appear in court.

Jewelry stolen

Hudson Jewelry, 1901 State St., is conducting an inventory to determine the quantity and value of jewelry stolen from a display window between 11 p.m. Monday and 5:15 a.m. Tuesday. A three-foot-square showroom window was broken and the jewelry removed by reaching through the broken window.

Pontoon sets special meet

The Pontoon Beach Village Board has set a special meeting for 7 a.m. Saturday in the village hall to close out the financial books for the 1977-78 fiscal year, which ends Sunday night.

The recessed meeting was called during the board's regular meeting Tuesday night at which current bills were paid in preparation for the end of the fiscal year.

It was noted Tuesday night that Illinois Power Co. expects to complete its study of the entire village street lighting system and to make recommendations in the next few weeks on where additional lights are required and which lights should be modernized.

A letter of commendation to the village police from the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGI) was read noting that in a recent series of drug arrests, the village police helped in taking about $50,000 worth of drugs and illegal equipment off the streets.

Madison ups fire call fee

Firefighting service to East Madison and the Cloverleaf Addition by the Madison Fire Department may be discontinued in the near future, unless residents of those areas agree to increase their fire call fee from $250 to $350.

Nameoki Township officials disclosed Monday night. Nameoki Trustee W. Lee Adams said he had spoken with Madison Mayor Mike Saszyk and had been told that the Madison Fire Department feels it is losing money for serving East Madison and Cloverleaf and needs to increase the fee.

Madison pays each volunteer fireman $9 for each fire call answered in addition to the other expenses involved in providing the service. He suggested the township attempt to organize a movement among residents of those areas to purchase an insurance rider to their home insurance policies which would assure payment of the $350 per call by the insurance companies to the Madison Fire Department.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harold Davis said the threat by Madison to discontinue the service is partially the result of persons who have received fire service not paying the bills from the fire department.

"Madison only wants compensation for the calls they make to these areas. We are trying to work out something," Davis pledged.

Dinner to open union series

A series of consumer counseling courses which will be presented throughout the month by the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council will open with a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, May 1, at the YMCA. Earl McDavitt of Washington, D.C., secretary-treasurer of the Union Label and Services Trades, AFL-CIO, will be the speaker at Monday's dinner session. He will speak on "The Importance of the Union Label."

Other courses will be presented over the remaining weeks of the month on May 8, 15 and 22, and on Tuesday, May 30. Sessions will begin at 7 p.m. and continue until 9:30 p.m. in each case.

Chapter KU plans dinner meeting party chairman, announced our annual party will be held, May 21, at 4 p.m. at her home, 2335 Zippel Ave.

The regular meeting of Chapter KU, P.E.O. was held in the home of Mrs. Ray Schaefer, 4034 Stearns Ave., Monday.

Dessert was served to the following members: Mrs. Cal Bartels, Mrs. Wm. Bureky, Mrs. George Coulidge, Mrs. Leonard Davis, Mrs. Elmer Gruen, Mrs. Maurice Hemphill, Mrs. Frank L. Kraus, Mrs.

Finley Maxwell, Mrs. Robert Maxwell, Mrs. John McCarthy, Mrs. Dale Mullen, and Mrs. Wayne Robinson.

Salvation Army dinner Friday

The Golden Agers of Salvation Army reelected Mrs. Alysia Seipel president, Naomi Ronney, vice-president, John Batson, chaplain, and Thelma Stover, secretary, at a meeting held last week.

Captain Michael Tompkins led the opening prayer and pledged to the flag. He also presented a program on various short stories.

A report of the last meeting held in December was given by Mrs. Stover. The group agreed to meet every third Thursday during the summer months at the Salvation Army beginning at 11 a.m.

The annual advisory board meeting is scheduled for May 24, the president reported.

A chicken and dumpling dinner will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 28, Mrs. Seipel said.

The birthday planter was won by Mrs. Lillian Gregory. John Batson gave a devotional lesson on the women of the Bible and dinner was served to 48 members.

LIGHTING FUND $1,000 GIFTS. Contributions of $1,000 each are presented by City Treasurer Nick Pettilio and James McKechnan, the latter representing the TES Co., at a meeting this week of the Granite City High School Sports Complex Lighting Committee.

Bellcoff on panel to select district highway office site

A five-member citizen committee has been appointed to recommend sites for a new headquarters, for the District 8 office of the Division of Highways, Illinois Highway Director Harold W. Monroney announced Tuesday.

The present district highway office is located at 9300 St. Clair Ave. Fairview Heights.

Members of the committee will be Karl Monroe, editor of the Collville Herald; John N. Bellocq, Madison city clerk and president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission; Anthony Dimmie, a general contractor in Collinsville; H. J. Haberecker, Belleville, retired president of the Belleville Area College; and Bruce Cook, an attorney in East St. Louis.

In addition, Jack Hook, chief of operations and administration for the Illinois Division of Highways, will serve as a resource person and ex-officio member of the committee.

"I am pleased these area citizens have agreed to serve on this committee, which I believe is a blue-ribbon panel," Monroney said.

"The committee has been asked to narrow the more than 25 sites that have already been offered or proposed down to three sites. All three of the recommended sites should meet the criteria for the new district headquarters."

It will be making a final recommendation based on the committee's findings, and Transportation Secretary John Krammer will make the final site determination," Monroney said.

A consultant will be selected on June 7 or 8 and will assist with necessary engineering site studies for the committee.

The consultant's work is expected to take about 60 days after a contract has been negotiated, and a site decision is planned for early fall.

Brownie Troops honor mothers

Three Brownie Troops, sponsored by Frohardt School PTA, hosted a mother and daughter banquet at the school this week.

A pot luck dinner was served to 69 members and guests including Mrs. Bobbi Ponder, Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. Doris Votaw, organizer and Mrs. Phyllis Ryan, consultant.

The opening flag ceremony was performed by a combined group from each troop.

Arrangements for the affair were completed by Troop 981 under the leadership of Mrs. Linda Pickett and Mrs. Linda Aud, Troop 816 led by Mrs. Kay Portell, Mrs. Sandy Schoeber and Mrs. Judith Dew, and Troop 387 directed by Mrs. Sylvia Molaski and Mrs. Virginia Rydigi.

Discussions were held on the Special Olympics scheduled for May 6, and a Mother's Day observance. Plans were made to take the members mothers to the Spring House Tour in downtown Granite City on May 7 to be followed by a tea in the home of Mrs. Tracy, chapter president.

Others attending the session were Mesdames Sharon Taylor, Joyce Sullivan, Pam Doctor, Mary Morgan, Sandy DeMoulin, Jane Jackstad, Cindy Hollingshead, Ellen Voyles, Debbie Parmley, Phyllis Talley and Jane Yates. Mrs. Taylor will entertain the group at the May 4 meeting, it was noted.

Girl Scouts complete first aid course

Four Junior Girl Scout Troops, which completed a 12-hour basic first aid course, received their Health and Safety badges and a Red Cross First Aid Card at the final session held at Washington School.

Jo Williams from the Red Cross office served as instructor for the entire program.

Those participating were Troop 84 from Washington School, Phyllis Meyers and Tina White with leader Janis Smith and guest Eric Smith; Troop 729, Washington School, Ronnie Riepe, Sandra Broussard, Wendy Tinsley, Angela Patton and Co-leader Carolyn Patton.

Troop 891, St. Joseph School, led by Barbara Boyer, and members Donna and Kathy Hahn, Kathleen McDonald, Boyer, Cindy Morris and Donna Partney.

Troop 454, Logan School, Rita Ellis, Tina Williams, Melinda Davis, Charlene Sanders, Paula Matthews and Brenda Evans.

Brother Pasqual met the group and gave a talk on the origin of the shrine.

Mrs. May Findley, vice-president of the club, was in charge of the trip. She announced a salad dinner will be held at the Y on Friday, April 8.

Saddle Club show is rescheduled

The Granite City Trailriders Saddle Club have rescheduled a point show to 1 p.m. Sunday, April 30, according to club officers.

Originally planned for Sunday, April 23, the show was postponed to the muddy condition of the show grounds.

The show will be conducted at the club arena located at Highway Three and Slough Road.

Former residents NAME FIRST CHILD

Former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bell of Sea Side, Ill., have selected the name of Monica Fay for their first child born April 11, at St. Silas B. Hayes Army Hospital, Fort Ord, Calif.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Hull and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bell, all of Granite City.

ARRESTS NEAR BOXCARS

Two boys, ages 12 and 15, were arrested while allegedly attempting to open boxcar doors on Norfolk & Western Railroad cars behind the 300 block of Wilson Park Lane at 6:20 p.m. Wednesday. The two were released without being charged after they told police they were only removing the metal straps locks to put around their ankles as jewelry. They are to meet with juvenile officials.

MARIJUANA ARREST

A 15-year-old faces possible juvenile court action and another juvenile was released to a Granite City High School South counselor after they were allegedly seen smoking a marijuana cigarette behind Church's Fried Chicken, across from the high school at 9:20 a.m. Wednesday. Officers searched the two, finding a marijuana cigarette in one youth's shirt pocket.

Your wedding will be beautiful . . . and your area merchants are ready to assist you!

Patricia Rill is betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rill, 3213 Erin Drive, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Miss Patricia Rill and Airman Daniel Brewer.

The groom-elect is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brewer, Tipp City, Ohio, formerly of Granite City. He attended Granite City High School and is presently stationed aboard the USS Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Miss Rill graduated in 1975 from Granite City High School, and currently is a junior student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is majoring in special education. The engaged couple are planning a June wedding.

Robin Stanton is engaged

The engagement of Miss Robin Stanton and Kenneth Clark is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton, 2940 Washington Ave.

Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, reside at 2735 Buxton Ave. Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. Miss Stanton is employed at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Her fiancé is an employee of American Steel Foundries. The betrothed couple and their families are planning an Aug. 5th wedding to take place at Calvary Baptist Church, with the Rev. Al Slayter officiating.

MISS ROBIN STANTON whose engagement to Kenneth Clark, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton, 2940 Washington Ave. An Aug. 5th wedding is planned.

Christine Lund is bride-to-be

Announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Christine M. Lund, a daughter of Herbert D. Lund, 26 Cambridge Drive, and Mrs. Ernestine Lund of Gainesville, Mo., and Louis McCoy III.

The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McCoy II, 1005 Greenwood Ave., Madison. He graduated from Assumption High School in East St. Louis, and is presently an employee of Arkansas Best Freight Trucking Firm, St. Louis.

Miss Lund will graduate in May from the Gainesville High School.

The betrothed couple are planning to be married on June 24, at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ in Granite City.

TO MARRY. Miss Christine Lund whose betrothal to Louis McCoy III, is being announced. She is a daughter of Herbert D. Lund, 26 Cambridge Drive, and Mrs. Ernestine Lund of Gainesville, Mo. They plan a June 24 wedding.

Tamara Edwards is betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin W. Edwards, 2238 Benton St., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Tamara Sue Edwards to Timothy E. Sherlock.

The prospective groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walden R. Sherlock, 2608 Probes Ave. He will graduate in June from Granite City High School South.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple and their families for a December wedding.

Cherished memories on film

Dressed in white or flowered chintz, witnessed by many or a select few, accompanied by organ strains or the lift of a recorder—weddings can take so many different forms.

Whatever the size and style of event, it is a day for the newlyweds to feel romantic, pampered and perhaps a little bit awed. And it's a day to remember and share with others during a lifetime to come.

That's why the occasion calls for the services of a professional photographer who can capture all the moods of the many moments—from the excitement of preparation right through to the quiet farewell to parents. These quality prints on Kodak paper will help keep alive the memory of the day.

To be sure you will have the type of photography you want, make your plans early. Talk to your local photographer as soon as your wedding date is set, and plan together what events you'll want recorded. He can show you many different styles of photography—from superimposed mood pictures to candid close-ups—that will help you decide what you will want.

Also, make arrangements for the bridal portrait that will illustrate newspaper articles about the wedding. This can be taken in advance, or, if you prefer, may be a portrait of bride and groom made at the time of the wedding.

So you can be free of any concern at the wedding, ask a relative or friend to accompany the photographer that day, pointing out the people you'd appreciate in your photo album—from childhood chum to office co-worker.

BRIDE-TO-BE. Miss Tamara Sue Edwards fiancée of Timothy E. Sherlock. Their engagement and plans for a December wedding is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin W. Edwards, 2238 Benton St.

We remind you that if you want your wedding done in elegance and professionalism, see us.

Creative Homemaking booklet available

A bride today, a wife tomorrow! When the wedding is over and marriage responsibilities become part of your everyday routine, you may find that you don't have enough time to do all the decorating and household chores you had in mind.

"Creative Homemaking" is a brand new booklet that can help you through your dilemma. It offers a variety of helpful homemaking hints, ranging from time- and money-saving tips to suitcase-packing advice to decorating ideas.

For your free copy send a postcard to: "Creative Homemaking", Consumer Relations Dept., Box N, Texize Chemicals Company, P.O. Box 368, Greenville, SC 29602.

Congratulations!

Your next important move is to select your banking partner.

You've chosen your partner in life and have confirmed this relationship through marriage.

Your next important step is to select your financial partner—one who can help you attain your goals in life.

Soon you will be needing many more material things—home furnishings, perhaps a new home, or, if you both are working, two cars instead of only one. Later, as your family grows, there will be other needs.

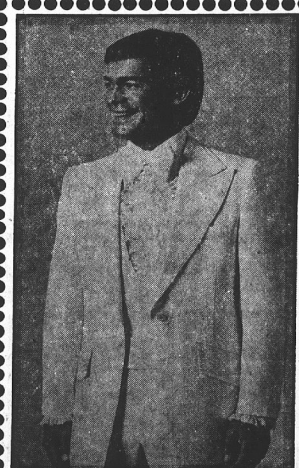

Select a financial partner who can provide the widest possible range of complete financial services—checking and savings accounts, loans for any worthwhile purpose, and neighborly advice and counseling when you ask for it.

Select First Bank. We want to be your banking partner.

Carla Macios becomes Mrs. Anthony B. Crow

St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on April 7, of Miss Carla Ann Macios, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Macios, 78 Cambridge Drive, and Anthony Brian Crow, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Crow, 2142 Hamilton Ave.

Father Kenneth J. Becker officiated at the 6:30 p.m. double ring ceremony, before the altar decorated with bouquets of peach gladioli, white pom poms and greenery. Mr. and Mrs. Alan Bogovich provided the wedding music. Selections included "Sometimes," "The Wedding Song," "Heather," "Ave Maria," "God, Woman, and Man," "Evergreen" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Macios wore a long ivory Qiana gown featuring a wedding ring neckline and oval sheer yoke applique with delicate silk Venice lace motifs.

The full bishop sleeves were gathered at the wrists with fitted lace cuffs, and the softly flowing skirt fell into a full chapel sweep, edged in lace.

A lace camelot cap held in place her circular veil of bridal issuon bordered in lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Jo Elaine Macios. Bridesmaids included another sister, Miss Cathy Macios, Miss Samantha Guenther, Miss Linda Macios, a cousin, and Mrs. Andria Lackey. Junior bridesmaids were twin sisters of the bride, Misses JoAnn and Julie Macios. They chose identical apricot Qiana full length dresses fashioned with sleeveless Empire bodices complemented with chiffon jackets enhanced with a petite print border on the sleeves and yoke.

Each attendant wore a hairpiece of baby's breath with touches of blue silk and they held floral arrangements of peach and white carnations intermingled with sprigs of baby's breath.

Steve Crow, a brother of the groom, was the ringbearer.

The groom chose John Moran as best man, John Crow, the groom's brother, Jaime Durrett, Dave Ramey and Joe Batson served as groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats was Marc Macios, the bride's brother.

A reception, for 450 guests, was held at the Croatian Hall in Madison, after the church ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Crow, parents of the groom, entertained the bridal party at a buffet dinner in their home, following the church rehearsal.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Macios selected a long steel blue Qiana dress with a layered effect on the front of the gown and a draped back. Mrs. Crow, mother of the groom, was attired in a green turquoise gown and long lace coat ensemble.

They both wore wristlet corsages of white roses and baby's breath.

MR. AND MRS. GARY S. HAWKINS, whose wedding took place at the First Baptist Church in Venice. Formerly Miss Mandie Ruth Walker, the bride is a daughter of Mrs. John Kipp, 2568 North St., and Curtis Walker, 2745 Ralph St.

Mandie Ruth Walker and Gary Steven Hawkins wed

Miss Mandie Ruth Walker and Gary Steven Hawkins exchanged wedding vows in an early evening ceremony, on April 3, at the First Baptist Church in Venice.

Arrangements of blue and white carnations interspersed with greenery decorated the sanctuary for the 6:30 candlelight double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Austin Fisher.

Organist Miss Tammy Boushvard played "Columbia" and "We've Only Just Begun" preceding the arrival of the bride.

The bride is a daughter of Curtis Walker, 2745 Ralph St., and Mrs. John Kipp, 2568 North St. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin W. Hawkins, reside at 1035 Fourth St., Venice.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white satin princess style gown fashioned with a high lace neckline and full sheer shepherds' sleeves, capped with Chantilly lace, etched with pearls. Matching beaded lace created the wide cuffs, which were closed with tiny covered buttons.

The softly flowing skirt extended into a cathedral train, edged with a ruffled lace trim. Her fingertip veil bordered with lace was secured to lace headpiece and she held a cascade bouquet of blue carnations and white roses.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Theresa A. Hale, chose a formal

Shower honors Bobbie Pearce

Miss Bobbie Pearce, a July bride-elect, was guest of honor at a surprise kitchen shower and birthday party given Tuesday at Blair School by Mrs. Valerie Stevens and the students of Miss Pearce.

The boys and girls in Room 209 at the school with Mrs. Stevens held the social event in the music room.

Gifts were presented to the honoree followed by a song fest. Cookies and candy were served during the afternoon.

Those attending were Miss Christina Sandoz, Ricky Ball, Corrin Blockton, Andre Loving, Earl Malone Jr., Larry Mosby, Howard Murray, Bobby Pickett, Kenneth Seldon, Donald Shipp, Archel Vouters, Clarissa Dandridge, Debra Dillon, Lyla Echols, Pat Freeman, Deanne Harper, Angel Hollis, Yondria Jefferson, Kelly Madison, Carla Trice and Lisa Young.

Miss Pearce will become the bride of Joe Dallas on July 29.

It's traditional—when the groom-to-be gives his beloved a diamond engagement ring, she usually presents him with a handsome gift too, the Jewelry Industry Council reports.

Her gift is usually something he can wear on his wedding day—maybe his birthstone in a ring. But chances are, she will choose a watch to symbolize their happy years ahead.

Usually the young couple shop for the ring together, relying wisely on their favorite jeweler for advice. Their jeweler is the diamond expert who can explain the four main factors which affect a diamond's worth. These factors are known in the trade as the 4 C's, cut, clarity, color and carat weight.

Cheryl Lewis bride-elect

Plans for an Aug. 4 wedding were disclosed with the engagement announcement of Miss Cheryl K. Lewis and Edward N. Streicher Jr., by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Lewis, 3725 Joyce Ave.

Miss Lewis, a member of the National Honor Society, will graduate in June from Granite City High School North. She also is employed as a cashier at Schermers Market in Madison.

Her fiancé is a son of Mrs. Betty Ince, 2817 E. 24th St. He was graduated in 1977 from Granite City High School South, and currently works at Hamlin Castings in Edwardsville.

Wedding day hair style

You're not making your Broadway debut—but it's your "big day"—so why not a rehearsal of your own wedding day hair style?

Knowing exactly how you want your hair to look, how it works with your veil, and some ideas as to how it will stand up to a full day of activities will save time and frustration at the last minute.

Start early.

Don't leave a new style, or cut or permanent to the last minute! Ten days or so before the event, visit your beauty salon for a trim which will shape your hair and get rid of split ends and stray pieces.

If your hair is fine or very straight, you may want to have a body wave or a permanent. Be sure to take your wedding veil with you so your hair stylist knows the shape of the headband or cap. If he's used curlers, ask him about the direction to wind to achieve the look he has created.

Rehearse. After two or three days, wash and blow-dry or set your hair and "rehearse" the style you planned on. If possible, have a "complete" wash and set rehearsal. Move around your home to get used to your gown and veil.

See how the hair style will hold as you walk down the aisle and back, receive your guests and dance. At the end of your rehearsal you'll have a pretty good idea of what's right and wrong with your hair.

BETROTHED. Miss Cheryl K. Lewis, fiancée of Edward N. Streicher Jr. Their engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Lewis, 3725 Joyce Ave. Plans are being completed for an Aug. 4 wedding.

Spiritual marriage ceremony

The marriage ceremony in India is of ancient origin, compiled from the Vedas, the Hindu sacred books, about 5,000 years ago.

The Hindu marriage takes place in the house of the bride. Before the actual ceremony, the groom arrives at the house with his family and friends, and he and the bride exchange garlands of flowers.

Then the bride is led to the sacred fire—the place of the marriage ceremony—by her mother's brother.

The bride and groom sit in front of the fire, while the priest chants the mantra, or sacred hymns, invoking the gods to witness and bless the union.

The ceremony before the fire is known as the Vivaha-Homa. Apart from the personal responsibilities towards each other, the Hindu marriage ceremony calls upon the couple to accept wider responsibilities of life towards the human community in general and towards the universe at large.

The couple then begin the Homa-Pradakshina and Sapta-Padi, making seven rounds of the sacred fire. They both take one oath for

THE BRIDE OF INDIA is wed in her own home, exchanging vows with her husband-to-be in front of a sacred fire, the symbol of Light and Power in the Hindu faith. The typical bridal costume in India consists of a beautiful ghagra (skirt), with blouse and the ornai, or mantle, worn gracefully on the head.

Wedding gift registry

To avoid collecting myriads of toasters or white elephants—chosen by well-meaning friends and relatives as wedding gifts—the wise bride-to-be will make a visit to a wedding gift registry a must.

A free service offered by virtually all department, gift and jewelry stores, the registry records the bride's preferences in tableware, kitchen items, and other furnishings for her new home.

Betsy Abbott, registry consultant at B. Altman and Company in New York explains, "We give advice to brides on color schemes, patterns, and design trends. We also help friends and relatives who are not familiar with the bride's tastes escape the time-consuming search through the store to find the 'right' gift."

In coordinating china, crystal, and silver choices, the registry is particularly valuable, according to Arlene Hirst, design consultant for Lenox, whose fine china is registered for by more brides than any other firm.

"We design such a wide variety of patterns, shapes and colors that the professional advice of the consultant is invaluable in helping brides choose Lenox style to suit their tastes," she said.

Choose china first. "China, because of its importance on the table, is usually selected first; crystal and silver are then chosen. Color, pattern, and lifestyle are key factors today in assembling a coordinated look in table fashions that will last for years," Ms. Hirst said.

In home entertaining, the successful hostess is rated not only by the menu she prepares but by the tablesetting she creates. With the dramatic use of color in linens and accessories—and with imaginative centerpiece—she can create a background for her china and crystal that truly reflects her personality," said Ms. Hirst.

In choosing her china and crystal, color is important. The Lenox designer declared. In new dinnerware designs, there are rich chocolate browns, bold terra cottas, and natural blues. In crystal, gold, green, blue, and brown are popular casual colors.

Fine china patterns also range from the traditional floral sprays, etched gold bands, and oriental motifs to the contemporary white-on-white and simple platinum banded designs. And in crystal, there are graceful new flared stemware shapes, over-sized wine glasses, and contemporary decanters and table accessories.

Helpful hints

By keeping abreast of trends in tableware design, the wedding gift consultant offers brides up-to-the-minute advice, said the Lenox consultant. Here are the tips she offers in using the registry:

• Register as soon after your engagement as possible—at least several months before the wedding. The closer you get to your wedding date, the busier you will be. Often, relatives and friends also consult the registry to buy engagement gifts.

• Mother, members of the bridal party, and close friends will help spread the name of the store where you are registered. It is best to select one store.

• Department stores with branches usually coordinate the information within their chains. The consultant keeps up-to-date records as gifts are purchased.

• Most brides register their choices for fine china, crystal, and silver, but it is also advisable to register for casual tableware items. You are not obligated to make a purchase at the store where you register.

• Register for the number of place settings that will fit your lifestyle. You can start with as little as two and go up to ten or twelve. Buffet place settings consist of three pieces: a dinner plate, cup and saucer.

Complete place settings also include the salad and bread and butter plates, a total of five pieces which you would use for entertaining.

• Lenox china and crystal patterns are available in "open stock." You can continue to add pieces to your set and build a full service as long as the pattern is made.

Colorful Mexican bridal customs

Many of us are familiar with Mexico as a popular honeymoon resort and haven for newlyweds. The "Mexican wedding dress"—the lovely tiered gown of lace and cotton—is sought out by tourists in Mexico as a popular fashion to be worn for all special occasions. And the cosmopolitan centers of Acapulco, Guadalajara, and Mexico City send their brides to the altar in the most up-to-date of Western bridal fashions.

It is interesting, therefore, to take a look at that less traveled, less publicized part of Mexico where the wedding ceremony takes on a very different style, blending the primitive rites of an ancient civilization with the influence of modern culture.

Such is the case of the Tehuana of southern Mexico. The Tehuana are a relatively isolated group, direct descendants of one of the oldest civilizations in Mesoamerica.

The Tehuana women are known for their dignified beauty and proud bearing. They are also known for their colorful and distinctive native attire.

This may be seen in the wedding dress of the Tehuana bride, who goes to the altar of the local church garbed in all of her traditional finery. She will wear her best flounce skirt, the most popular garment among the Tehuana women, its body richly embroidered with colorful flower designs.

Her top is the traditional huipil. The lucky Tehuana bride will have a fine huipil that was made at the turn of the century and passed on to her as a priceless family heirloom. These fine huipiles are trimmed along the hem and the bottom of the sleeve with wide fringes of gold thread while the neckline is finished with white lace.

The wedding vows taken by the Tehuana, now Roman Catholics, have still changed little from those of their ancient ancestors, who wrote of the duties of husband and wife with regard to the care of their children and devotion to each other as shown in a life of diligence and goodness.

FROM SOUTHERN MEXICO comes the colorful, beautifully designed bridal outfit of Tehuantepec. It consists of a flounced skirt, usually done in ruby or black velvet and lavishly embroidered with antiseptic flowers, and the huipil, the traditional Tehuana top that modestly covers the bride's shoulders in cascades of lace and starched pleats.

German mothers plant flowers for weddings

Every bride in the States carries flowers with her on her wedding day, but how many can say that they are carrying flowers that were planted especially for their wedding day on the day that they were born?

In Germany there are many young women who can make this claim, due to one of the loveliest ethnic bridal traditions of all.

When a baby girl is born in Germany her mother plants a tiny plant called amrie. This will be grown and nurtured until her wedding day when the flowers will be used to decorate her headpiece they are usually woven into a crown. The groom also wears a sprig of the same amrie in his lapel.

Alas! Times do change and progress takes its toll. In today's busy world, many German girls now wear artificial amrie, with urban spread cancelling out the possibilities of a wedding plant for every newborn Fraulein.

Yet the spirit of the amrie—a symbol of continuity, unity, and love as a beautiful living and flowering entity—will continue to add its special touch of grace to German weddings.

Solemn Japanese wedding

In contrast to the wedding ceremony as it is known in the United States, with its manifest ebullience and gaiety, solemnity and quietude set the tone of the traditional Japanese wedding. And right so, in particular for the bride whose demeanor throughout the ceremony is one of a downward gaze showing little emotion.

In fact, one of the accessories of the traditional wedding attire was a small dagger which symbolized the bride's determination to succeed in her marriage or, if not, to be prepared to end her life!

In Japan it is commonly said that one marries in the Shinto faith and is buried in the Buddhist one, and it is not unusual for couples who are Buddhists by religion to choose the Shinto ceremony with which to be married.

The ceremony itself is performed by the priest and not witnessed by a large group, but limited to the immediate family of the couple.

A wedding reception to which the couples' friends and relatives are invited usually follows the ceremony. The reception can take place anywhere from a hotel banquet room to a restaurant and the occasion is one of gaiety and celebration much like the Western counterpart.

The traditional bridal attire is very beautiful and extravagant, representing upwards of thousands of dollars in cost.

Traditionally, the bride is heavily powdered so that she has a white almost mask-like appearance.

In older days, a young woman wore her hair long and uncurled, and it was done up in the traditional elaborate high hair do. Nowadays a wig takes care of that tedious chore.

One of the concessions that has not been made is the wearing of the white silk

TRADITIONAL JAPANESE BRIDAL ATTIRE consists of a very ornate kimono with flowing sleeves that reach down to the floor. Often the gown is made of rich silk brocade with a great deal of embroidery using gold and silver threads. The obi or sash is also of silver and gold brocade, very elaborately tied in back. The bride wears the traditional hairdo, elaborately arranged, lacquered and piled high.

cloth around the hair do which is called a tsunokakushi symbolizing the young woman's total devotion to her husband. The bridal costume entails several layers of unsilk brocade embroidered with silver and gold threads and is in many beautiful colors.

Around the waist is the broad sash or obi, again of Origin of diamond gifts

You've good reason to be grateful to a ravishing young French beauty named Agnes Sorel if you now own or have hopes of acquiring a diamond some day.

The reason? Way back in 1444, Agnes, enterprisingly snatched diamonds out of the male domain and made them fashionable and romantic for women to wear.

It seems before Agnes, according to the Jewelry Industry Council, diamonds were considered strictly for masculine wear. Believing that the diamonds' unmatched hardness gave men extra strength and courage, kings and noblemen wore them into battle. Women, with the exception of a few liberated royal ladies, didn't wear them at all.

Patron plotter! Then there was Agnes, daughter of a poor but noble French family. Through family connections, she was appointed a lady-in-waiting to the royal court of Charles VII while still in her teens. This was the same Charles for whom Joan of Arc had fought and died some years before.

Agnes, who idolized Joan and Joan's quest to free France from the English, was attracted to the young monarch.

While a promising beauty even in her teens, Agnes, try as she might, could not catch the eye of the King, who was constantly surrounded by beautiful women. It took several years—until she was 22, history reports, before Agnes could plot a scheme to impress Charles.

An important royal ball was to take place, and Agnes was determined the King would notice her this time. She borrowed all the diamonds she could from her male relatives, and took them to a Parisian jeweler requesting that he make them into a dazzling necklace.

She chose a lustrous low-cut gown that spotlighted her graceful neck, creamy white shoulders and comely curves.

When young Agnes swept into the ballroom, every eye in the room was riveted on her. The royal page announced her presence, and when the King looked up, he gave an appreciative smile and beckoned her near.

Whether it was the flashing diamonds, or the blooming beauty of the young maiden, Agnes caught the King's eye, and walked into his life to stay.

Her lovely figure, chestnut hair, deep blue eyes and flawless complexion caused him to nickname her the court's "Dame de Beauté" (Lady of Beauty), and in fact, he built an impressive palace for her—the Chateau de Beauté near Paris.

Through the King's influence, Agnes was elevated to an enviable social position—she became a style-setter and popularized the custom of women wearing diamonds.

Not just 'pretty face' Agnes Sorel was the first officially recognized King's mistress, and gained official status because of this. Historians say, reports the Council, that Agnes was more than just another pretty face. Remembering the goal of her idol, Joan of Arc—that of pushing the British out of Burgundy—Agnes is credited with aiding and inspiring

Charles to do just that. She not only provided encouragement, but cold hard cash as well, arranging loans from important merchants to help finance the King's armies.

While the beautiful Agnes lived a storybook life—bearing four lovely daughters to the King, and remaining his favorite—she did not as they say, "live happily ever after."

Legend lives on Some scholars believe she died in 1450, giving birth, while others hint darkly she was poisoned by someone.

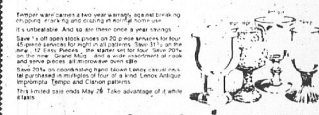

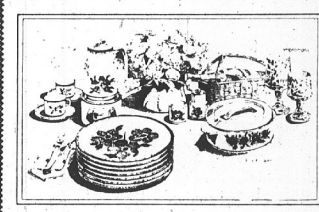

The guilty party, or parties, were purported to be everyone from the King's own son, who resented his father's mistress usurping his mother's place, to one of the merchants who had loaned the King money. The King was so indebted to the moneyman that Charles discredited and imprisoned the merchant to cancel his debt. Whatever the cause of her death, Agnes Sorel to this day is a national heroine in France where she is honored for her beauty, fidelity and patriotism.

BREATHTAKINGLY BEAUTIFUL Agnes Sorel made her place in history more than once, reports the Jewelry Industry Council. Mistress of Charles VII, Agnes Sorel not only used her charms to persuade the King to drive the English from France, but helped win him the backing and financing of influential merchants. It was she who literally snatched the diamond from the all-male realm to make it not only acceptable, but high fashion for women to wear.

Seith's South sees an upset for Senate in '78

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record Washington Bureau

Democratic Senate candidate Alex Seith's campaign manager, Garry South, has heard it all too frequently, but it never fails to ruffle his feathers. What shakes South is the suggestion that his boss is a dull campaigner with little or no chance of denying Republican Charles Percy a third six-year term in the Senate.

"I vehemently disagree with that; most people who say Alex is dull have never seen him campaign," said South. "It is the thing that is built up in the press that is based upon someone looking at his background. They see Yale, Harvard and the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations and say, 'He must really be dull.'"

"But it is not a conclusion based on first hand experience. To conclude he is dull without watching him in action is not only inaccurate but unfair."

It is easy to understand the dull image. Seith, 43, is a well-trained, intelligent, multilingual — French, Spanish, German and learning Russian — attorney, who only recently has shunned pin-striped suits.

First impressions might be that he would be more at home in a corporate board room or embassy than shaking hands in the boardrooms.

South does not deny that there is a perception — whether true or not — that he is a dull campaigner with little or no chance of denying Republican Charles Percy a third six-year term in the Senate.

"Among the opinion leaders, that is true," said South. "But the opinion leaders have shown a real penchant for being proved wrong. They have a penchant for going with the status quo."

South, who managed President Carter's Montana campaign, likes to compare Seith's situation with Mr. Carter's in 1975 when the current president had only about one percent of the votes in the national polls.

Like Mr. Carter, Seith will prove more popular with the voters than the pollsters and pundits are predicting, South said.

He does not discount that the "can't win" perception hampers fund-raising. But South said the campaign staff will circumvent the "opinion leaders" with a direct mail appeal for funds to $5 million households by election day. Seith's camp is hopeful the mail appeal, coupled with a series of fund-raisers, will provide the $500,000 they want to raise for the campaign.

Seith formerly worked for the Democratic National Committee. He is confident that it and the Democratic Senate Campaign Committee will give clues to the legal ceiling of $17,500 in direct contributions in addition to "in-kind" contributions.

Seith and South are trying to drive home the point that Percy is vulnerable. They cite a poll last summer, which Seith commissioned, that showed 46 percent of those surveyed rate Percy's performance as excellent or good and 42 percent rate him poor or fair. They also cite positive reaction Seith has received in his statewide door-to-door campaign.

They are expecting help from the White House, the DNC and senators in neighboring states. The president will say a good word for Seith at a Cook County Democratic fundraiser in Chicago next month.

The president's mother, "Miss Lillian," appeared at a Chicago reception in his behalf last month — she was able to remember his name by noting it rhymed with "teeth."

"Both the White House and the Democratic National Committee view this as a very potential upset, with a good amount of national public relations involved," said South.

"If we lose a fair amount of seats in the House, one way to recoup part of that kind of loss is by picking up a Senate seat that no one expects us to pick off in a large state like Illinois — against a supposedly glamorous, invincible opponent like Charles Percy who has presidential ambitions."

Shortage of rail cars worsening

The shortage of railroad cars needed to move grain has reached serious proportions in recent months, carrying with it unhappy implications for the market, food processors and manufacturers and even the nation's balance of trade, according to a Southern Illinois University at Carbondale agricultural economist.

Walter Wills, whose specialty is agriculture commodity transportation problems, blames the railroads themselves. "The rail car shortage has been chronic since the mid-1960s and has grown progressively worse in the past two years. Shortages peaked during the last fall's soybean harvest, he said, as might have been expected."

But after the harvest, the problem got worse instead of better, according to Wills. He cited data from U.S. Department of Agriculture marketing service reports.

"We now have the most severe shortage we have ever had — more than 31,000 hoppers and boxcars in March — and this is about as far away from a grain harvest as you can get," Wills said.

Each year, the railroads assure shippers that there will be no shortage. Then at harvest time, shippers are assured the situation is only temporary.

"But when shortages are reported 45 weeks out of the year, there is reason to doubt that this is a temporary situation."

Wills said shortages have worsened despite a large increase in the construction of on-ramp storage facilities in recent years. "The grain is grown to be used, not stored," he said. "Sooner or later, it will be shipped. And it is grain waiting to be shipped from storage that is in trouble now."

"Will it help the situation for farmers to build more and more storage facilities when the transportation network is unable to handle the problem at any time of the year?"

Ineffective management is the reason for car shortages, in Wills' view. "It is generally conceded that for railroad cars, barges or trucks to make money for their owners, they must be loaded and moved. But railroad data suggest the average railroad car moves fewer than 60 miles a day.

"If railroads provided clean cars ready to be loaded, picked them up promptly when they were loaded, moved them directly to their destinations and unloaded them when they got there, the cars would make many more trips in a year and lose many more loaded miles."

Even casual observers have seen empty cars on sidings for many days, weeks or even months. This at a time when shippers are pleading for cars. "It has been suggested that shippers should own their own railroad cars. This is already happening, according to Wills. "Shippers are putting more cars on the rails every month, but this does not absolve railroads of the responsibility of providing more cars."

Wills' suggestions for helping to alleviate the grain industry's transportation woes:

—Increase the loaded miles per unit for each car in service.

—Eliminate circuitous billing.

—Spend less time loading and unloading.

—Return empty cars rapidly.

—Deliver clean, serviceable cars to pickup points.

—Intensify maintenance of cars and get everything possible into service.

In the long run, all transportation modes will have to cooperate and coordinate their efforts and make the moving of products their principal concern. Wills contends. There will have to be substantial improvement in waterways, highways and the roadbeds of railway companies, in addition to a sizeable increase in production of both barges and railroad cars, he is convinced.

Wills has repeatedly urged more public and government concern with the development of an efficient transportation system for agricultural commodities. Why?

(1) "Because these commodities are the major ingredients, directly or indirectly, of the food we eat."

(2) "Because the export of these commodities can help reduce the U.S. balance of trade deficit."

(3) "U.S. food production potential must be available to help feed the world's hungry, especially when crops fail abroad as they have in recent history."

DeMolay officers installed

The Granite City Court of Chevaliers installed officers of James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, in a public ceremony at the Masonic Temple last week.

The installing officer was Charles E. Hileman Jr. Other installing officers were: Senior Counselor William A. Cochran Jr., Junior Counselor Hiram B. Ables, Marshal Ellis N. Hackney Jr., Chaplain William B. Berger and Junior Deacon Stanley C. Myers.

Kirk A. Potillo was installed as master counselor. Other officers installed were:

Sentinel, Daniel C. Monroe Jr.; standard bearer, Michael Filkins; almoner, Norman E. Burgess Jr.; marshal, Bryan E. Johnson; orator, Frank B. Chandler; first preceptor, Richard E. Miller; second preceptor, John G. Williams.

Third preceptor, Joseph H. Johnston; fourth preceptor, Patrick J. Gibbons; fifth preceptor, David T. Medley; sixth preceptor, Marvin J. Huelher Jr.; seventh preceptor, Timothy A. Goodwin; scribe, Dennis E. Worthen.

Miss Karol Lee sang a solo to the master counselor at the altar and a solo for Mrs. Louise Potillo, his mother. Miss Beth Potillo accompanied Miss Lee and played for the installation.

Robert Potillo, Kirk's brother, escorted their mother to the altar where Kirk presented her with an arm bouquet of roses and paid her tribute. He then introduced other members of this family and out-of-town guests.

After receiving the gavel of authority from the installing officer, Potillo thanked the DeMolays for electing him master counselor and thanked all who had a part in the installation.

Introduced were: Miss Michelle Root, honored queen of Bethel 43; International Order of Job's Daughters, who introduced her officers: Mrs. Betty State, guardian of Job's Daughters; Marty Love, associate guardian of Job's Daughters; Edward W. Honor society at university

A campus chapter of Phi Kappa Phi honor society will be established at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Earl Lazerson, vice president and provost, said installation ceremonies are scheduled May 26, with George Bright, vice president for the East Central Region of Phi Kappa Phi, officiating.

"The presence of Phi Kappa Phi on the SIUE campus will greatly enhance our efforts to highlight academic excellence," Lazerson predicted. Founded in 1897 at the University of Maine, the honor society now has 202 chapters at colleges and universities throughout the nation.

The criteria and limits for electing persons to membership are determined by each individual chapter but are always within the framework of the society's bylaws.

Undergraduate students eligible for consideration have senior status and are academically in the upper 10 percent of their class, or have reached the final period of their junior year and are academically in the upper five percent of their class.

Graduate students may be elected, but their number must not exceed 10 percent of the number of candidates for degrees during the year. Faculty members and alumni who have achieved scholarly distinction may also be elected to membership in limited numbers.

With the approval of the board of directors, an occasional honorary or distinguished member may be elected by a chapter.

The Phi Kappa Phi Foundation awards graduate fellowships on a competitive basis to graduating students who have been initiated into the honor society and who have been nominated by their chapters for the competition. Phi Kappa Phi also publishes a quarterly journal.

Eighteen members of the SIUE faculty who were members of Phi Kappa Phi chapters at other institutions were the petitioning group for the charter. They will constitute the charter members of the local chapter.

300 jobs at 1978 River Fest events

Representatives of the Nederlander Organization arrived Monday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to initiate local planning for the tenth annual Mississippi River Festival scheduled to begin on the SIUE campus in early June.

The university announced April 6 that the MRF site has been leased to the Nederlander firm, owner and operator of 18 entertainment facilities from coast to coast and one of the largest promoters of entertainment in the United States.

Wayne Nederlander said here this week he tentatively is planning a news conference at the University on May 3 to announce programming for the 1978 MRF season.

He said his organization is making "great progress" toward finalizing a "complete package of exciting entertainment for everyone" despite the fact it has been less than three weeks since the contract with his firm was signed.

Nederlander announced the appointment of Peggy Wells, a veteran of eight years with the organization, as general manager of the MRF. She began regular office hours Tuesday in space in the university's Supporting Services Building and on May 8 will open offices at the MRF site.

The Nederlander office at Supporting Services is Room 1007, and the telephone number is 692-3284. The mailing address is Post Office Box 39, SIUE.

The same telephone number will be continued after the offices are opened at the MRF site.

Applications for student employment are available immediately at the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance in the Rendleman Building, and others may apply at the Nederlander office in Supporting Services.

Approximately 300 positions will be filled, including a director of public relations. Key members of the Nederlander Organization are coming to the campus to assist with the establishment of specialized policies and procedures, but local people will be trained to occupy major positions.

The university's Physical Plant staff is scheduled to begin site preparations this week, including erection of the MRF tent, if weather conditions permit.

The tent provides cover for the permanent stage and nearly 1,000 seats. Lawn seating in the natural outdoor amphitheater on the northwest side of the campus has accommodated crowds of more than 20,000.

Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university, expressed enthusiasm as the Nederlander representatives arrived to begin their operations.

"We welcome Peggy Wells and the Nederlanders and look forward to an exciting and enjoyable summer," the president said. He said liaison between the university and the Nederlander organization will be continued for the time being through Dr. Ralph W. Ruffner, senior vice-president and chairperson of the Ad Hoc MRF Committee which recommended leasing the MRF to an outside promoter.

Peggy Wells comes to the MRF from the Merriweather Post Pavilion at Columbia, Md., one of three outdoor Nederlander operations with which she has been associated. She previously had been affiliated with the Pine Knob Music Theater at Detroit and the Curran Theater in San Francisco.

Also, the Arie Crown and Studebaker Theaters in Chicago; the Pantages Theater in Los Angeles; the Palace West Theater in Phoenix; the Fox Theater in San Diego; and the Curran Theater in San Francisco.

The firm's most recent undertaking is the leasing of the outdoor New York State Theater in Lincoln Center for the 1978 — summer season beginning in July.

The university's contract with Nederlander provides that the promoter will do a "turkey" job, handling all arrangements for the 1978 season here with no expenditure of university funds. In its nine years of existence, the MRF has recorded more than one million attendance and has become nationally known, with appearances by most of the major artists in the entertainment business of the past decade.

Method to correct tax return error

Quad-Cityans who have discovered an error after filing an income tax return can correct the mistake by filing a Form 1040X, Ira S. Loeb, Internal Revenue district director for Central and Southern Illinois, said this week.

The forms are available at IRS offices or can be obtained by using the order blank in tax packages.

Failing to report income, forgetting to claim deductions, or making mistakes in the amount of credit claimed are some of the more common tax return errors that filing a Form 1040X can correct.

Generally, the 1040X form must be filed within three years from the due date of the original return — or two years from the date of the tax payment — whichever is later, the district director said.

TIPTOE THROUGH THE DAFFODILS Carol Jesse, a senior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, found enjoyment walking through a hillside of daffodils on the campus on a warm spring day. Miss Jesse, of 2554 Westmoreland, Granite City, is an anthropology major at the university.

Strangers, 'workers' may be dangerous, senior citizens told

Two Granite City police detectives met with 65 senior citizens in the new Granite City Township building Thursday afternoon to review safety precautions against home intruders.

There have been recent incidents where men have been tempted to gain entry into the homes of elderly Quad-City area residents and have, in some cases, attempted to lure the residents into the basement. These have concerned Granite City police, who note that the elderly Richard and Anna Kube were murdered in the basement of their home March 4, 1976.

Men have posed as representatives of Illinois Power Co. and the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Company and others have said they wanted to work on the intended victims' homes, such as sealing driveways and roofs or other work, the detectives noted.

Captain of Detectives Robert Astorian and Detective Roy Koberna warned the senior citizens not to allow strangers into their homes unless they have proper identification and a reason to want to enter the home.

Employees of utilities carry identification cards and residents should always ask to see the cards before allowing the workman into the home, it was asserted.

If there is anything suspicious about the workman, he should be asked to wait outside while the resident calls the utility or the police to verify why he is there.

Anyone who receives a telephone call in which he is told a workman will be coming to his home later to check or work on something should verify why the man is being sent to the home or should call police immediately, the detectives said.

In two recent incidents, including one where two women were terrorized in their home, the attacker called ahead and told the victims he would be coming to their homes to check something.

The senior citizens were told they should either tell the caller not to come to their homes and hang up, or should agree on the telephone to have the man come over and then call police immediately.

"We may get lucky and get our man from one of these calls," Astorian said. "In short, be suspicious of persons of all races. Tell your friends to be careful and not to allow anyone they do not know into their homes."

"Call the police when there is anyone suspicious at your home. We just do not want any more elderly victims in Granite City," Astorian concluded.

Club will 'explore' West's vast plateau

The Colorado Plateau — its barrenness, its vast and desolate beauty, its danger and its ecological problems — will be the subject for the May 8 meeting of the Piasa Palisades Group of the Sierra Club at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, 4th and Abby streets, Alton.

Chairman Dean Frame will present a slide dissolve program with coordinated narration and appropriate background music. The Colorado Plateau encompasses an area of 150,000 square miles, or about three times the size of Illinois. The plateau covers a substantial portion of four states, Colorado, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. In addition, 14 of 23 national parks and monuments will be "visited."

"The program starts as we follow the Colorado River through the heart of the Plateau, with the river ripping and tearing into the ground as it descends over one mile in depth through the Plateau. We descend into the Grand Canyon and gaze with wonder at the lush beauty of the Havasupai Indian Reservation, visiting the waterfalls of Havasu Creek," Frame comments.

"Controversial man-made lakes of the Colorado River will be observed, including the Glen Canyon Power Plant and Hoover Dam."

"As we tour outlying areas of the Plateau such as the petrified forests, Meteor Crater, volcanic craters, eroded and sediment-filled lake beds and Indian reservations, the Black Mesa coal mine area will be visited and we'll view the Four Corners Power Plant."

"Arches National Park is used as a place of geological study as we survey its many arches and pedestals, examining the formations of sandstone."

"In the Wilderness Act of 1964, wilderness is established as 'an area where the earth and its community of life are untrammelled by man, where man himself is a visitor who does not remain.'"

"By these standards, the last place we visit certainly meets this, as we tour much of Canyonlands National Park in a four-wheel-drive vehicle negotiating 40-degree grades. But even as the program closes, a road has just been traversed, extending the encroachment of Man just a little farther."

Involved in the multi-media field and the Sierra Club for several years, Frame teaches a Riverview Gardens High School.

The program is based on five recent trips through the Colorado Plateau by the Frame family and was developed in partial fulfillment of an independent studies earth science course at SIUE. The public is being invited to attend the meeting.

MICHAEL E. YENCHO, a senior at Granite City High School North, has been awarded a scholarship by St. Louis University. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yencho, 2571 Waterson Ave., Michael was selected for the award on the basis of academic achievements. Man wounded by shotgun blast

William Jackson Jr., 34, Brooklyn, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5:15 p.m. Monday after being shot with a shotgun.

Brooklyn police said Bobby Jackson of Brooklyn, who is not related to the victim, has been charged with reckless conduct in the shooting and bond is set at $1,000.

A police spokesman said the two were believed to have had a disagreement in the Judge's Chambers Tavern in Brooklyn which ended with William Jackson Jr. being wounded.

He suffered wounds to his chest and right cheek, but authorities said the wounds were not severe and he was admitted to the hospital only for observation.

St. Mary-St. Mark registration set

Registration for first grade and new students who will be enrolled in grades two to eight at St. Mary's Catholic School in Madison, will be held from 9 to 12 noon on Saturday, May 6, in the school cafeteria, according to Sister Barbara, principal.

Students residing in St. Mark's Catholic School parish are to register from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday, May 13, at St. Mark's, Sister Barbara added.

Sgt. Stevens member of top bomb squadron

Master Sergeant Delmar J. Stevens, son of Mrs. Raymond Stevens, 2966 Madison Ave., Granite City, is a member of the best bomb squadron in the Strategic Air Command (SAC).

A B-52 Stratofortress defensive aerial gunner at Minot AFB, N.D., he is part of the 23rd Bombardment Squadron, which earned the General John D. Ryan Outstanding Bomb Squadron Award for 1977.

The unit was honored for its performance, inspection scores, operational achievements and accident-free flying safety record.

The squadron also was involved with community and base activities, the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps and athletic programs. And squadron members were instrumental in establishing a base trap and skeet range.

The award, established in 1975, honors Gen. Ryan, SAC command and chief, from December 1964 to January 1967. The sergeant is a 1957 graduate of Roosevelt High School.

Several new large print books have been received. Among them are "Curtains" and "Appointment with Death" by Agatha Christie.

TIME FOR EQUAL RIGHTS? Janet Ottwell, president of the Illinois League of Women Voters, presents a foot-high hourglass to Speaker of the House William Redmond following a League press conference in the Illinois Capitol. The hourglass, a symbol that "the time is now for ERA," is inscribed: "Presented to the 80th Illinois General Assembly by the League of Women Voters in support of ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment." If the House of Representatives passes the resolution, the League will present the hourglass to Illinois Senate President Thomas Hynes to keep until Senate ratification. In a talk in the rotunda, she urged that Illinois "recapture the leadership in the fight for equal justice for all by ratifying now, and provide for the entire country the momentum needed to put ERA over the top by March 1979." Thirty-five of the needed 38 state legislatures have ratified the women's rights Constitutional amendment.

Beekeeping demonstration at GC library Saturday

By JEANETTE KAMPEN of the Public Library Staff

A beekeeping demonstration will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Children's Room of the Granite City Public Library. A representative of the Department of Agriculture, Apiary Inspection, will explain the art of beekeeping with the aid of a demonstration hive and the equipment of the hobby.

This program is the April performance of the "Windows of the World" series sponsored by the Children's Department. May's program will feature Sylvia Kluth, creative dramatics instructor and specialist in children's dramatics at SIUE. She will lead the children in creative dramatic activities. The program will be held in the Children's Room at 2 p.m. on Saturday, May 20.

Windows of the World performances are free and open to the public.

New Books: Books about three masters of comedy have been added to GCT's collection. In "Hello, I Must Be Going," Groucho and "His Friends," the author, Charlotte Chandler, combines her own personal recollections with the reminiscences of other friends of Groucho, among them Woody Allen, Bill Cosby, Jack Nicholson, Jack Benny, and George Burns.

Included in the book are rare stills from a "lost" 1931 promotional film, along with its complete script, as well as some unpublished photographs from Groucho's career and private life.

Film historian John McCabe, in the book "Charlie Chaplin," has set out to find the truth behind the legends, misconceptions and errors surrounding Chaplin's life. McCabe, the biographer of Stan Laurel and Groucho Marx, has drawn not only from the available record but also from personal interviews, including his interviews with Stan Laurel, who knew Chaplin during his formative years on the English music hall stage.

"Woody Allen: A Biography," by Lee Guttrie, follows the private life and career of Woody from his childhood in Brooklyn, where the "values were God and carpenter," to his latest film, "Annie Hall."

The author pinpoints the dichotomy between the natural comic who just can't help being funny and the serious movie maker who fears more than anything else that his work may be trivial.

Don't litter roads, state asks; it's unattractive and dangerous

"Trashy" thoughts are occupying the Illinois Department of Transportation and District 8 these spring days.

In 1977, the state of Illinois spent over $3,200,000 for trash removal from state-maintained highways.

The cost to District 8, which includes Calhoun, Jersey, Greene, Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph, Washington and Bond counties, amounted to $300,000.

"The costs mentioned are for the state highway system only and can be multiplied greatly if you consider the costs to the local systems."

"In addition, the costs of equipment breakdown and flat tires to both state equipment and motorists would increase these costs greatly," District Engineer Dale Klorer said this week.

"Over 225 maintenance employees in District 8 are spending a major part of their time over the next several weeks to remove the trash and debris that has accumulated over the past several months."

"This pick-up is necessary to improve the appearance of the highways, and is essential prior to the mowing season to prevent any serious hazards."

"The accumulation of trash on highways is not only unsightly, but also a safety hazard, since so much of it consists of bottles, cans and broken boards about anything you can imagine that becomes a projectile during our mowing operation."

"It also creates a hazard on the roadway to the motorists, both from his need to avoid the material and from the potential of flat tires and other mechanical malfunctions."

"For the monies expended on trash pick-up, the state could have resurfaced 32 miles of roadway or rehabilitated 12 bridges," Klorer asserted.

"We estimate we annually pick up 3,000 tons of trash from this district's 1,700 miles of roadway."

"The trash problem has become extensive. We are requesting the assistance of citizens to help eliminate this waste of tax dollars."

Asparagus, rhubarb harvest time is here

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Gardening Adviser
Plantings of rhubarb that are three years old or over can and should be harvested.

Two-year old plantings can be harvested for one or two weeks, and younger plantings should be left to grow for another year.

To harvest rhubarb, pull the leafstalk from the plant, pulling them slightly in the direction in which the stalk grows.

Pick the largest and best stalks. Leave 10 to 12 stalks to grow and feed the plant until the next picking.

Harvested stalks should be trimmed and used as soon as possible for best quality. However, stalks may be stored for a couple of weeks in a refrigerator.

Asparagus can be harvested in the fourth and succeeding years. For an extended harvest, keep all the spears cut or removed.

For best eating, let the spears grow to 5 to 8 inches in height. Then, either cut under the ground where the spear is emerging or snap it off.

Snaping is merely bending the spear until it breaks. This will leave the fibrous part in the ground.

Asparagus deteriorates rapidly after harvest. If it is not eaten immediately, it should be processed or refrigerated.

There are several reasons that fruit trees don't bloom and they all involve the specie and the weather. Within a species, age and variety can be important factors.

Many failed to bloom as they had been expected to do this month.

Age is a limiting factor in many young trees. It is somewhat unusual for apple, pear and sweet cherry to bloom much before they are five years old.

Some plum, apricot and cherry trees need several years of growth before flowering. But peach will generally bloom in the second year if the weather is okay.

Varieties within a species also vary in their flower initiation. For example, Golden Delicious apples bloom at an earlier age than Red Delicious, and Stanley plum will bloom earlier than the Yakima variety.

Dwarfing rootstocks and good cultural practices are sometimes effective in speeding up flowering.

But many older trees are barren of flowers this year. This may have been caused by culture and one or more climatic factors.

It must be remembered that flower buds of all our deciduous fruit trees are initiated in June or July. If poor nutrition or light, or stress due to low soil moisture occurs at this time, few buds are formed.

A heavy fruit crop causes this type of stress, too, especially in pears and apples.

Most stone fruits have the potential of making flower buds while bearing a crop. But low nutrition levels will leave the buds in a weakened condition and they may not survive the winter minimum temperatures.

Most of the barren trees this spring are the result of over-cropping in 1977 or because of poor growth in 1977.

With average conditions in 1978, flower buds will be initiated this summer and they will bloom in April 1979.

TELEVISION STUDIO FACILITIES of the J. B. Johnson Career Development Center, Alton, are inspected by members of the Vocational Advisory Council of the Venice School District 3 while on tour of the regional center. Sixteen members of the advisory council toured the multi-million dollar facility which offers courses in industrial, health, agricultural and business occupations in addition to personal and service occupations. The center uses the television studio to record classes on video tape to be used in the instruction of students. A closed-circuit system is also installed throughout the center for instructional purposes. (Press-Record Photo)

Rides, booths May 8-14 to aid light fund

The second week of May will be an important week for the campaign to provide lighting for Fehling Road baseball and soccer fields.

The Granite City Sports Complex Lighting Fund Committee met Monday to discuss and plan for a lighting fund carnival, which is to be held on the Coolidge Junior High School grounds May 8 through May 14.

The lighting fund will receive a guarantee of $3,000 plus 25 percent of the total receipts from the rides and attractions featured by the carnival.

In addition, plans are being made by the committee to sponsor four "special attraction booths" from which all proceeds will go directly to the lighting fund.

Warren Decatur, Chairman of the solicitation committee, is finalizing plans for other fund-raising activities.

This committee is to consist of 12 two-member teams who are to approach businesses and industries requesting financial support of the athletic field lighting project.

The committee praised area banks that displayed a small-scale replica of the sports complex in its anticipated completed form.

"Those who viewed the project will attest that the completed project will be a worthwhile addition to our community," a spokesman commented Monday.

"The established goal of the committee is $75,000."

"The kickoff banquet held March 30 provided impetus and community awareness relative to the lighting project, as well as a balance of $5,125."

"All those who purchased banquet tickets have been a big help and we request their continued support in the future."

How to prolong the beauty of gift plants

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser

You can prolong the beauty of flowering gift plants when you water regularly and provide plenty of light. Most living rooms shorten the life of potted flowering plants because they are dry and much warmer than a greenhouse. Improper watering and low humidity blight the flowers and prevent new buds from opening.

Your watering schedule should depend on the dampness of the soil. Feel of the soil every day to determine if the plant has enough water.

When the soil feels dry, add water from the top. The soil will be thoroughly wet when a little water appears in the dish under the pot. This overflow should be dumped to avoid soggy soil and drowned roots.

Cool temperatures and lots of light are the key to success. Open the drapes and keep your plants near the window. Avoid hot radiators or ventilers.

At night, move the plant to a cool bedroom or porch. When you can duplicate a greenhouse environment of cool nights and bright days, it will add days or weeks of beauty.

Waterlogged soil smothers the roots of numerous evergreens, including Japanese yews and pines. Plants located near downspouts and flat areas where puddles last for a day are in trouble. Evergreens show a peculiar off-color green as though they were starved for fertilizer. Close inspections show lack of growth.

Prompt action is necessary to save these plants. Whenever possible, extend downspouts beyond the shrub planting to move the water away from the critical area.

In pond situations, you may be able to develop a network of small ditches to quickly move the water.

New transplants or plants a year old can be replanted. Raising the plants until one quarter of the soil ball is protruding above the existing soil level will place the roots above the critical water level.

Mulching will conceal these protruding roots and preserve moisture until the roots become established.

Chrysanthemums will maintain their beauty and performance if you divide the clump and properly respace the new plants.

Right now is a good time to divide the thick mat of plants and replant. Completely break up the clump and replant the choice plants about three inches apart. Discard the weak plants and all the old stumps from last year's plants.

GC Steel —Century of service

FOUNDED IN 1878. Granite City Steel will observe its centennial with a public open house May 19-20.

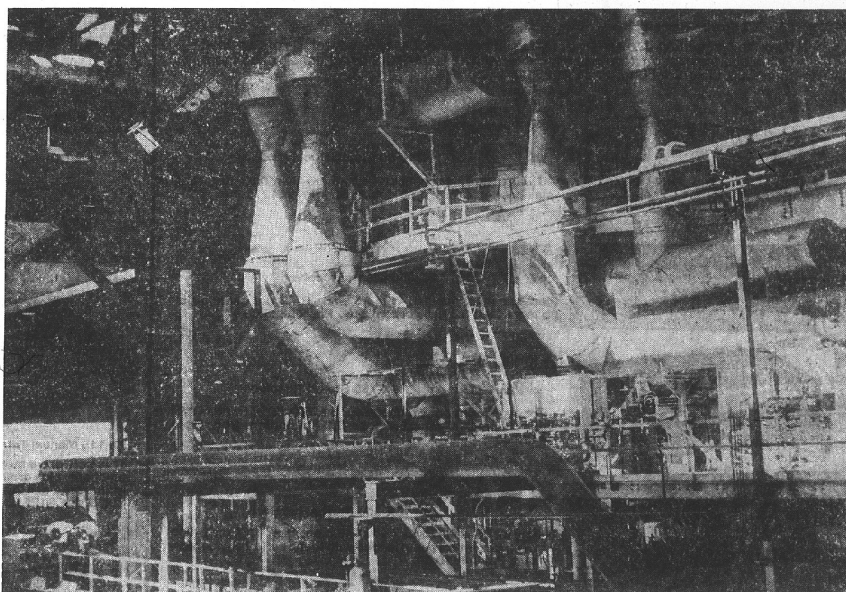

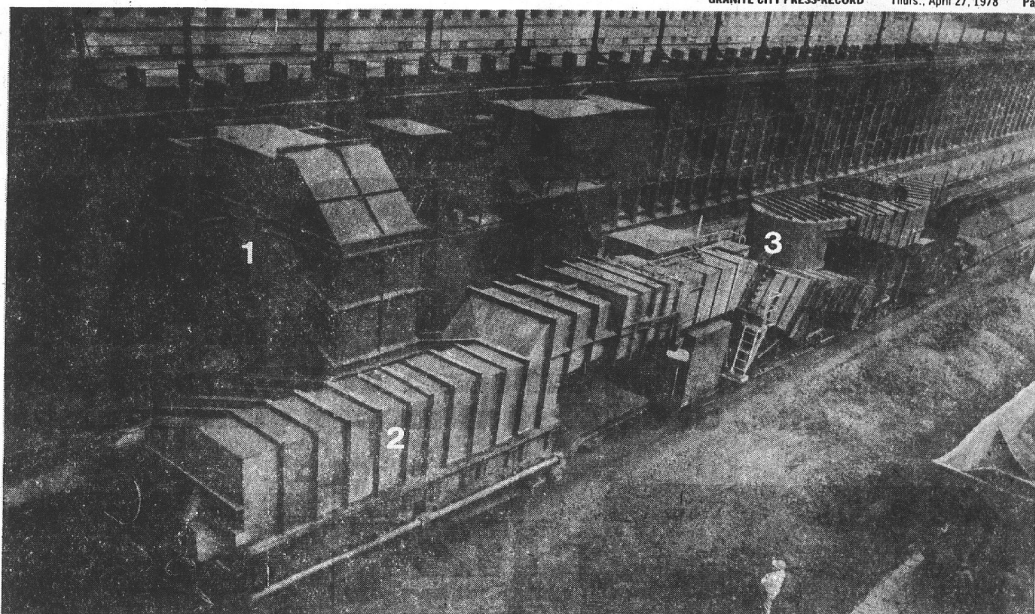

RIGHT—Invented here, the Blast Furnace Department's enclosed coke pushing emissions control system is being copied by other steel firms. Shown are (1) a coke guide with an articulated hood; (2) a one-spot, coke receiver quench car; and (3) an evacuation and gas cleaning car with scrubber, separator, fan, drive unit, pumps, water storage tanks, operator's cab and power unit.

RIGHT CENTER—Expansion of production facilities here has included installation of a fourth slab furnace in the hot strip mill. The furnace shown was placed in use in 1977.

LOWER LEFT—Computer-operated 80-inch hot mill is seen in use from the air-cooled finishing pulpit. Granite City Steel was acquired in 1971 by National Steel Corporation, the nation's third largest steel producer.

LOWER RIGHT—Throughout the past century, Granite City Steel has kept pace with the steel industry technologically, and now has one of the most modern plants in the United States. Even so, some jobs must still be done by hand to maintain the high quality standards.

Medal to McIlvoy

Air Force Major David W. McIlvoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell McIlvoy, 62 Riviera Drive, Granite City, has been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal.

McIlvoy, currently a student at the Armed Forces Staff College in Norfolk, Va., received the award for distinguished service as B-52 bomber instructor pilot evaluator at Barksdale Air Force Base, La.

The citation accompanying the award noted that his "outstanding professional skill, superior leadership, and knowledge of standardization and evaluation immeasurably enhanced the Strategic Air Command crew capability."

Commissioned an officer in 1966, McIlvoy has a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Illinois in Champaign and a master's degree in industrial management from Central Michigan University.

He is married to the former Leanna M. Palsgrove, daughter of Mrs. Ann Palsgrove, 2311 Pontoon Road, Granite City.

They have two children, Keith, 10, and Melissa, 6.

The Staff College, operated under direct supervision of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, annually conducts two 21-week courses to prepare highly-selected officers from all services for assignment to joint and combined commands, attaché and advisory duty to foreign nations, defense management positions, and theater troop commands at the battalion and higher levels.

Cooperation among the services is stressed as the students study joint and combined planning, organization and operations, national and international strategy.

The staff and faculty, like the students, are drawn proportionately from all the services.

New type 'bionic' limbs used in state

He can't create a bionic man, but John Seibt can create functional arms and legs for those who have lost them. As director of prosthetic services at the University of Illinois Hospital, he fabricates and fits artificial limbs for amputees of all ages.

"The higher the level of amputation, the more difficult it is to design and fit a prosthetic device," according to Seibt. "My three basic goals are to have a prosthesis fit, work well and look good," he added. "Smaller components developed myo-electronic (pertaining to the electromotive properties of muscle) upper extremity prosthesis."

Every prosthesis prescribed by a physician is fitted by a prosthetist who customizes it to each amputee's needs and desires.

Born at the Army Hospital in Fort Benning, Ga., Seibt moved to Chicago as a child, growing up on the far south side. He studied at Northwestern University, where he received an associate arts degree in prosthetics in 1967.

After eight years in private practice, he joined the University of Illinois at the Medical Center in 1974 as director of prosthetic services. He was certified nine years ago by the American Board for Certification in Orthotics and Prosthetics.

He is also certified as a Veterans Administration prosthetist and he is a charter member of the American Academy of Orthotists and Prosthetists and a past president of its Midwest chapter.

Married and the father of two daughters, Seibt is active in the community of Tinley Park, where he recently served on the village's ethnic commission. He is a constant advocate of financial aid for prosthetic patients, since amputees periodically need new artificial limbs.

When the amputee is a young child, the unaffected limbs grow at a normal rate, requiring frequent replacement of the prosthetic device, Seibt said. The cost of such replacement limbs is not prohibitive since the state, in most cases, helps to defray the cost for minors.

Because of everyday wear, adult amputees also require limb replacement. If they do not have the assistance of federal or state aid, they can find the cost of limb replacement prohibitive, Seibt said.

"Most insurance companies are willing to defray the cost of the first artificial limb."

"Thereafter, in most cases, adult amputees must rely on their own personal finances unless they can obtain some form of assistance, such as that offered by the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation of Illinois."

Seibt finds his profession "extremely rewarding, knowing that I am enabling a perfectly normal human who has lost a limb to live the same life as you and I."

Council rejects zoning plea

A report by the City Plan Commission that a petition for a C-1 (commercial) zoning classification for a lot at 2403 Iowa St. to be used for storage of boats failed to receive commission approval "for a lack of votes," was confirmed by the City Council last week.

Council members confirmed the report despite a request by Bob Richardson, operator of Granite City Boat & Motor Co., that the council reverse the plan commission report and grant the rezoning. The lot now is zoned R-3 (residential).

Richardson, who spoke before the council concerning his request, said he would make any improvements required by city officials such as rocking or angulating the lot, or installing fencing around it. He said use of the lot for boat storage would permit him to move the boats from an area now fronting on Madison Avenue.

He said his business has "run out of room" for storage of boats and that moving onto the area on Iowa Street would permit a neater appearance of the storage areas.

John Petrillo acted as spokesman for a delegation of neighborhood residents who opposed the rezoning on grounds that the movement of boats in operating the business would create traffic problems.

By a vote of 8 to 5, the council concurred in a motion by Alderman Roy Poulos that the plan commission's report be confirmed.

Youth named on two charges

Eric D. Weymouth, 20, of 3004 Edgewood Ave., was charged with criminal trespass to a motor vehicle and possession of a hypodermic syringe after police stopped him in an auto at Jack-in-the-Box Restaurant, 3330 Namekiki Road, at 1:35 a.m. Tuesday.

Paula Laster, 2027 rear Cleveland Blvd., alleged the auto was taken from in front of her home without her permission at 1:10 a.m. Tuesday. She said she heard an engine start and looked out her window to see the car being driven south on Cleveland Boulevard.

Officers alleged Weymouth had a hypodermic syringe and needle in his shirt pocket when he was arrested.

In Memoriam 33

In Loving Memory of CLIFFORD BARR who departed this life April 20th, 1978. Sadly missed by his Wife, Margaret Barr, Children and Grandchildren and All Who Loved Him 33 4 27

In Loving Memory of KYLE PHILIP PONDER April 28, 1975. Shall claim of death cause us to grieve, And make our courage faint and fail? Nay, let us faith and hope receive — Our boy still grows beyond the wall. 33 4 27

Sadly missed by Mom and Brothers 33 4 27

In Loving Memory of OPAL BRUNCH April 30, 1964. We do not forget you, nor do we intend, We think of you often, and will to the end; Gone and forgotten by some you may be, But dear to our memory you will ever be. 33 4 27

Sadly missed by Husband and Children 33 4 27

In Loving Memory of HARVEY BARR who passed away April 30, 1941. We often sit and think of him when we are all alone, For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own. Like ivy on the withered oak, when all other things decay, Our love for him will still keep green, and never fade away. 33 4 27

Sadly missed by His Children, Grandchildren and All Who Loved Him 33 4 27

In Loving Memory of JESSE SCHAEFER April 26, 1977. Nothing can ever take away the love a heart holds dear. Fond memories linger every day, remembrance keeps him dear. 33 4 27

Sadly missed by Wife, Frieda — Son, Omer 33 4 27

In Loving Memory of Mother (1895) and Dad (1967) JOSEPHINE and PAUL KELH. Sadly missed by Children and Grandchildren 33 4 27

Vocal concert tonight at South

Colorful customs, dance routines and production numbers will highlight Granite City High School South's "Spring Vocal Concert," scheduled at 8 p.m. today in the South auditorium.

The public is invited to attend and tickets, costing 50 cents each, will be available at door tonight, prior to concert time. Student performers will include the Advanced Mixed Chorus, Madrigals, Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Choral, Sixth Hour Mixed Chorus and Contando. The concert will feature a wide variety of music, including sacred songs — anthems and spirituals — folk songs, madrigal and barbershop music, popular songs and show tunes from "South Pacific," "Carousel," "Sound of Music," among others.

Specific numbers to be presented by the various vocal groups are:

"The Lord Is a Mighty God"; "Psalm 23"; "Swing Chorus"; "O Mighty God, Our Lord"; "Rock-a My Soul"; "The King of Love My Shepherd Is"; "The Need to Be"; "It's a Grand Night for Singing"; "Edleweiss"; "June Is Busting Out All Over"; "Tomorrow"; "Hallelujah"; "There Is Nothing Like a Dame"; "Wedding Song"; "Goodnight Ladies"; "Let Me Call You Sweetheart"; "Celebrate"; "Sing"; "Could It Be Magic"; "I Believe in Music"; "That's the Way I Like It"; and "Weekend in New England."

Mrs. Mary Ann Bright, director of South High Vocal Music Department, is directing the spring concert presentation.

SPRING VOCAL CONCERT at Granite City High School South at 8 o'clock tonight will feature production numbers, including "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," being rehearsed here by the Sixth Hour Mixed Chorus. The public is invited to attend the annual concert. Tickets, costing 50 cents each, will be available at the door of South High auditorium before showtime.

Mrs. Grange dies at 94

Mrs. Sarah B. Grange, 94, of Rural Route One, Edwardsville, born in Nameoki Township, died at 9:10 a.m. Monday at Oliver Anderson Hospital, Maryville.

She was a member of St. John United Methodist Church in Edwardsville.

Her husband, Charles LeRoy

Grange, died in 1962. Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Francis (Elsie) Hawk of Granite City, Mrs. Isabelle Voyles of Edwardsville, and Mrs. W. H. (Mildred) Walker of San Juan Capistrano, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Fred (Grace) Dunn, Fort Pierce, Fla.; 10 grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.
